

WEATHER FORECAST:

Tomorrow: Fair

THE EVENING NEWS.

TEMPERATURE TODAY:

At 8 p. m., 86 degrees.

DEVOTED TO MAKING ADA A LARGER AND MORE PROGRESSIVE CITY

VOLUME 3

ADA, INDIAN TERRITORY, MONDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 3, 1906

NUMBER 140

COTTON IS KING IN THE NATION'S EXPORT TRADE

Washington, Sept. 2.—Cotton is king in the export record of the United States for the fiscal year just ended.

This is the introductory sentence of a statement just issued by the department of Commerce and Labor. Continuing, the statement says:

"The total value of raw cotton exported, for the first time, crossed the $400,000,000 line and exceeded by far the value of any other article of merchandise sent out of the country. The exports of breadstuffs of all kinds aggregated but $186,000,000, those of provisions but $211,000,000 and those of iron and steel manufactures but $161,000,000.

"The value of cotton exported has during the last five years increased very rapidly. It was not until 1901 that it crossed the $300,000,000 line, and in a short five years' period it has grown to more than $400,000,000, or an increase of 33 per cent. This growth is due in part to an increase in the quantity exported, but in part also to an advance in price, since the quantity exported in 1906 was about 700,000,000 pounds less than in 1905, while the value was $21,000,000 more than in 1905.

"The exportation of manufactured cotton was also larger in 1906 than in any earlier year, aggregating $53,000,000 against $50,000,000 in 1905, and $22,500,000 in 1904. The growth in exports of manufactured cotton has been as striking as that of the raw material.

"Europe is, of course, our principal customer for raw cotton. The United Kingdom took last year $177,000,000 worth, Germany $101,000,000, France 45,000,000 and Italy about $27,000,000, while the other countries of Europe took about $32,000,000 worth. Japan is also a customer for our raw cotton, but very irregular in the quantity bought, since she only buys largely of American cotton with the prices low, relying on India and China in years when American cotton is high. The value of cotton exported to Japan in the fiscal year 1906 was in round numbers $8,000,000, in 1905 $17,000,000 and in 1904 less than $3,000,000.

"In manufactured cotton China is by far the largest customer. The total value of all cotton manufactures exported in the fiscal year 1905 was as above indicated $53,000,000 in round terms, of which about $30,000,000 went to China. Practically all of the cotton goods sent to China was in the form of cloth, the total value of cotton cloth exported to China in the year being $29,541,188 and of other cotton goods $172,887. The exports of cotton cloth to China in the fiscal year 1906 exceeded both in quantity and value about $2,000,000 greater than in 1905. China's rank as a purchaser of American cotton is indicated by the fact that of the 711,000,000 yards of cloth exported in 1906, 498,000,000 went to China, while about 133,000,000 yards went to the American countries south of the United States and 25,000,000 went to Asia other than China and Oceania.

OPERATING ROOM OF DR. S. J. MARTIN

MAJORITY OF FIFTEEN FOR RETENTION OF "ADA"

The first count of the ballots cast in the News election on changing the name of Ada was made Monday morning, showing the result published below. The committee of judges selected to canvass the ballots is composed of W. L. Byrd, W. W. Rader and A. M. Croxton. This contest will continue just two weeks longer. In this time it is to be hoped every man, woman and child old enough to write his name will take sufficient interest in the contest to cast a ballot. It is of interest to everyone that the name be either changed or else criticism of "Ada" cease.

It will be observed from the returns that up to date those favoring the retention of "Ada" have a majority of 15 out of a total vote of 89.

Among the new names suggested Frisco City leads with 16, Winona City coming second with 12. Several names which have been suggested do not appear in the returns for the reason that no ballot was deposited following up the suggestion. Ballots are easy to get and everybody should cast one.

OFFICIAL RETURNS

September 3, 1906:

For Change of Name.....37
Against Change of Name.....52

VOTE FOR NEW NAMES.

Frisco City.....16
Winona City.....12
Winona.....2
Portland.....2
Grenada.....1
Oceola.....1
Carlton.....1
Chickma.....1
Hamilton.....1

W. L. Byrd, W. W. Rader, A. M. Croxton, judges.

Lost

On Main street or Broadway Friday morning, two $5.00 bills. Finder will please return one to the News office and keep the other as a reward. 138-tf

TAKING PRECAUTIONS AGAINST HOG CHOLERA

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 3.—The live stock agents of the Santa Fe Railway Company, at Fort Worth, have notified Thomas Morris, secretary of the Oklahoma Live Stock Commission, that no hogs will be accepted for shipment there into Oklahoma unless accompanied by a certificate from an agent of the Bureau of Animal Industry, in accordance with a recent ruling made by the Oklahoma board with a view of preventing an outbreak of hog cholera in this territory.

This action of the Santa Fe at Fort Worth, where considerable trouble has been experienced in getting favorable action on the hog ruling by the Oklahoma board, practically places the board in control of the situation and will force hog buyers to obey the ruling if they desire to ship hogs into the territory. Secretary Morris believes he has the hog buyers, who have been looking for a loop-hole to evade the ruling, in a position where they must obey. The board made its ruling at the request of numerous hog breeders and feeders throughout the territory, who desired to protect their herds from states where no hog quarantine laws are enforced.

"The big corn crop this year has naturally resulted in a desire for more hogs in this territory," said Mr. Norris in discussing the matter, "and many hog buyers have been anxiously and frantically picking up stock hogs of whatever kind they could find in Texas and elsewhere, regardless of whether or not they could get certificates of health for the stock.

"It has been the same way every year since the opening of the Territory, when we have had an extra large corn crop. I have been here since the country was first opened and have observed it time and time again. The year we had the first big corn crop here in Logan county, hogs were shipped in indiscriminately, with the result that cholera cleaned out nearly all the herds in the county. The same thing happened a few years later in Pawnee county, and it was because of the terrible ravages of cholera in Custer, Washita and some of the other southwestern counties last year, from just the same cause, that our recent order was issued. There are, of course, two sides to this, as to every other question, and it seems rather hard on the people who have surplus corn and want to import hogs to feed it to, but I think that we are serving the best interest of the Territory generally by tanding pat on our rule."

BRYAN HOMEWARD BOUND.

The Commoner and His "Homefolks" Speeding Toward Lincoln.

New York, Sept. 3.—Es-corted by the Nebraska "Home Folks," more than a hundred strong, William J. Bryan started on the home stretch of his progress around the world in a special train of five cars which left Jersey City over the Lehigh Valley railroad at 5:30 last afternoon. There was no demonstration at the station, but many passengers in the waiting room introduced themselves to Mr. Bryan and shook hands with him. The special was expected to reach Detroit this morning, and, after a day and a night reception, will start at midnight for Chicago, where another reception will be held Tuesday. The train is scheduled to reach Lincoln, Neb., Wednesday, when a rousing reception is promised by Mayor Brown, who headed the delegation of Nebraskans.

LABOR DAY.

No General Observance of the Holiday by Ada Folk.

Though this, the 3d day of September, is Labor Day, a legal holiday, there has been no observance of it save the customary closing of banks.

Indeed, it has been a busy day for the public officers, both at the courthouse and at the city hall, and laboring people generally were too busy making a living to stop for any extensive celebration. Anyhow, the weather was too inclement to allow of any big outdoor demonstration.

However, it is to be hoped that, beginning a year hence, there will be a regular observance on a big scale befitting the dignity of the day.

Improving.

J. F. McKeel has just completed at his home on East Tenth street a model lavatory. The building contains a bath closet and wash basin and is supplied with water from a tank and windmill. At the rear of the lot is a large cesspool where the sewerage is collected. The plant is a sanitary one, and could be patterned after by others in the city to good advantage.

Not Guilty.

A case of the City of Ada vs. Sid Tolbert, charged with disturbing the peace, was heard before a jury in the mayor's court this morning. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

AMERICA'S GREATEST NAVAL REVIEW TODAY

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 3.—The United States Atlantic fleet is ready for the inspection of Roosevelt today when the greatest American naval review in history takes place. The forty-five ships were in the positions assigned them at noon. They lie in three columns east and west just outside the entrance to Oyster Bay, in Long Island Sound.

Just before dark the Dolphin, flying the flag of the Secretary of the Navy, appeared from the eastward and circled the fleet some distance off. Although no salutes were fired the flag of the Secretary was duly honored, ships rails being manned and trumpets sounded. No calls were made and the Dolphin steamed into the harbor and anchored.

The Mayflower, which is to carry President Roosevelt, lies tonight where he will board her in the morning in the harbor. A number of distance boats are also in the harbor for readiness in the morning. The President's guests tonight at Sagamore hill included the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Bonaparte, Freiherr Speck von Sternberg, the German ambassador, and Surgeon General Rixey.

Although a brisk breeze was blowing and clouds threatening rain, the anchorage ground of the fleet was a place of great attraction all day for pleasure craft of every description. The harbor tonight is crowded with yachts, launches, houseboats, oyster steamers and, in short, every type in which craft can be pressed into service.

Oyster Bay is overwhelmed with guests. The single hotel turned crowds away supperless tonight and to secure shelter and a cot to sleep on is a luxury.

The review begins tomorrow at 11 o'clock and as President Roosevelt is to remain out of the sound on the Mayflower until midnight to witness the electrical display and illumination of the ships, it will not end until he leaves his flagship at night. During this time the ships of the fleet will remain at anchor in the positions they now hold. They will weigh anchor at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and proceed to their several stations.

CHRISTIANS PLAN FOR A GREAT BIBLE SCHOOL

South McAlester, I. T., Sept. 3.—The territorial Christian church convention recently held in this city, laid the foundation of what will be the largest bible college in the southwest. It is the opinion of those who are best informed on the matter that Norman, Oklahoma, will get the institution as it is the seat of the state university and the students of the bible college may have the advantage of university training if the school is located there.

The Christian churches of the two territories will be asked to give $200,000 at the start so as to insure the success of the enterprise, after which an appeal will be made to the wealthy members of the denomination in other states. It is the intention of the promoters of the school to raise not less than $1,000,000 with which to build and endow the school.

One of the chief advocates of the plan is Dr. E. V. Zollars of Warren, Ohio, who proposes to give his time to the work without compensation. According to Dr. Zollars there has been a wonderful falling off in the numbers of young men who are devoting themselves to the protestant ministry. The Christian church proposes to remedy this matter as far as possible by the education of young men to enter the ministry of the southwest.

Ramsey's Drug Store

For School Supplies, Drugs, Patent Medicines, Syringes, Water Bottles, Ice Caps, Rubber Gloves, Pocket Books, Purses, Paints and Oils, Gloss, Putty, Agents for Eureka Springs Water, Eastman's Kodaks and Kodak Supplies, Phonographs and Gold Moulded Records.

G. M. Ramsey, Druggist

(Successor to Clark Drug Co.)

Money to Loan

On Inter-married Surplus, Citizens with Restrictions Removed, and Upon City Property. Lowest Rates. Complete and Absolutely Correct Abstracts of Title to All Lands and Town Lots in This District.

GRAHAM-PYEATT ABSTRACT CO.

DORTCH YOUNG, Mgr. (Over Cit. Nat'l Bank with Crawford & Bolen)

PAUL W. ALLEN,

Livery, Feed and Sale Stable.

Horses Boarded by Day or Week. Satisfaction Guaranteed. Best of Service.

Allen Livery Barn

South Townsend Ave., Phone 64.

MASON DRUG COMPANY

Has Resumed Business at the Same Old Stand

Clean, Pure, Uptodate Stock. Utmost Care Given to Prescriptions. The Public's Patronage is Cordially Solicited.

LOANS

On Dead Claims, Inter-married Surplus and where Restrictions Are Removed. Improved City Property or to build.

Correct Neat Abstracts of Title at Reasonable Prices

ADA TITLE and TRUST CO.

W. H. EBEY, Pres. and Manager, — ADA, IND. TER.

A Full Line of May Manton Bazar PATTERNS

10c each. Catalogues 10c. Fashion Sheet Free.

These patterns are the best that can be purchased anywhere at any price.

Reed & Harrison

Patronize Home Industry

By Buying Ice From

Ada Ice and Fuel Co.

Keep Your Money at Home.

We Handle the Best Grades of Coal.

Phone 249.

Office at Ice Plant

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

Ada National Bank

Capital and Surplus, $63,500.

Ada, Ind., Ter.

The Idle Sinners.

Every once in awhile the action of some young man who is enjoying a princely income brings to mind the thought that money ill-spent inevitably brings disaster to the spender. The idle rich, whose sole idea is to amuse themselves, are curses in a community. They bring themselves to premature graves, but long before their deaths they are old in sin, and are so satiated with illicit pleasure that they find no enjoyment in anything, and, like Sir Charles Coldstream in the play of "Used Up," there is nothing for them to see with astonishment. Their constant cry is, "There is nothing in it," and they try to stimulate their jaded appetites with excesses that are suggestive of the declining Pagan days of Greece and Rome. Go to any of our fashionable watering places in the height of the season and you will find many indolent rich men whose faces express sensuality and a vague longing for a new sensation. Their fathers probably toiled hard for the money they are throwing away in trying to enjoy themselves with base amusements. It would have been a mercy if a few years earlier they had been deprived of their princely incomes. They might then have been of some use in the world. Now they are simply incumbrances. There is no breeder of vice like laziness, and this applies to all classes of young men, the poor as well as the rich, for all the vicious youth are not to be found among the rich, says the Boston Budget. Some of them come from the homes of poverty, and they rely upon poor relations for support when they do not become common thieves. Both the classes mentioned are demoralizing in the examples they set, and if they could be packed off together to some island in the sea, where they would have to work or starve, they might develop into something human and less brutal.

Robbing of a Beggar.

The street beggar with pockets lined with money is a fairly familiar figure of city life, but one of the free dispensaries reports an instance of an attempt to get free medicine, on the plea of poverty, that deserves a place in the catalogue of good stories of "graft," says the New York Post. A middle-aged woman appeared the other day and got a prescription, after which she took her place in the line of persons waiting to have their medicine made up by the apothecary. This particular woman, it should be said, had given satisfactory answers to all the questions put to her, designed to show whether she was a proper subject for charity. Suddenly there was a cry: "I'm robbed! I'm robbed!" The victim was this woman, who so far forgot her previous professions as to assert that her pocket had been picked and that the thief had got away with $90. Then she lost the opportunity to get free medicine, thus adding, in her view, insult to injury.

American Goods in Mexico.

"American merchants could do 50 per cent. more business in Mexico were they to study the character and condition of trade in our country," said Walter E. Grevel, of Mexico City. "The main trouble with the slow sale of American merchandise in Mexico is the fact that the merchants and manufacturers demand that payment for their goods be sent upon the receipt of the bill for the same, and this bill arrives a month in advance of the goods. Of course, our merchants do not favor the idea of paying for goods before receiving them. On the other hand, European merchants are liberal in giving time limits as high as six months, and, as a consequence, enjoy a good portion of our trade."

Aliases of the Great.

Some investigator of curious subjects has discovered that the inventor of traveling incognito was Peter the Great of Russia. The next after the famous Russian sovereign to adopt the practice was Joseph II. of Austria, who in 1777 made a little stay in Paris under the title of Count von Falkenstein. During the revolutionary period Louis XVIII. buried his temporary useless royal dignity under the privacy of Comte de Lille, while Charles X. passed as Comte de Marles. Ex-Empress Eugenie in her splendor frequently took little trips as Comtesse de Pierrefonds. King Leopold does so still as Comte de Ravenstein.

Castro has taken down the presidency, which he slipped off and hung up in the closet some time ago, and finds that it fits as well as ever. There is a rumor to the effect that he did not come back at the call of the asphalt trust, which may yet have a few fits in consequence of his return.

Edison says he will soon place automobiles within the reach of all. Some of us have had to be pretty spry to get out of reach of them.

FRUIT INSTEAD OF DRUGS.

Remedial Qualities May Be Preserved by Home Manufacture.

The remedial properties of berries, all of which are of great value in different diseases, may be preserved through the home manufacture of cordials, shrubs, vinegars, etc., and by drying, in which state they are to be steeped, strained, and the water used as needed. Cherries, greengages, plums, peaches and apricots share in this value with the berries. Grapes are second only to figs for use in disorders which arise from a torpid or congested state of the intestines. Health depends so largely upon the regularity of the functions of the bowels that attention to them is of the utmost importance. An excellent fig preparation is an effusion by steeping one ounce of senna in a pint of boiling water; select one pound of plump, dried figs, and, having placed them in a layer in an earthen dish, pour over them the well-steeped and strained senna tea. Place this in a moderate oven and allow them to remain until the fruit has entirely absorbed the liquid. Put this in a closed jar, and for use, one fig eaten on retiring is a dose for any ordinary case of constipation. Pineapple, while of especial worth in some diseases when taken with other food, should never be eaten alone, as, falling anything else to work upon, its acid attacks the lining of the stomach itself. It is claimed that it has an especial value in certain forms of dyspepsia and in diphtheria, as its juices will cut away mucus that nothing else can remove.

All fruits, however, do not affect all persons alike. One should seek to know what is suitable in his own case, and not eat fruits merely because somebody has told him it is "good for him." Owing frequently to idiosyncrasies, as well as to certain physical conditions, fruits are often the worst things one can eat. Each person must be "a law unto himself" in this matter.—The Commoner.

THE BUTTER BILLS.

Two Ways in Which They Can Be Materially Decreased.

A thrifty housewife declares that her butter bills have fallen off one-quarter since she began serving her butter in the form of butterballs. Apart from the economy of the thing, there is no question as to the comparative daintiness and attractiveness of serving butter in one wholesale lump, and in a collection of dainty, symmetrical balls. Abroad, where fresh, unsalted butter is served as a matter of course, it generally comes on the table in a sequence of little dabs or a long, shallow roll. People who have acquired the fresh butter taste find it hard to go back to the salty product of the American creamery, and there is no reason why they should provided there is some one in the family with sufficient leisure to make a little butter, two or three times a week. A quart of double cream will make nearly a pound of butter, and any child with strength enough to use a rotary beater can do the rest.

Witnessed Marriage from Afar.

Getting a man to witness a marriage ceremony at long distance by looking through two windows and across an area between adjacent buildings is a rather novel way of obtaining a witness, but it served the purpose at Portland, Ore., recently of legally and securely tying the matrimonial knot that made Manuel Pires and Grace Sophia Schuster one. The ceremony was performed in the law office of Justice Waldemar Seton, on the third floor of the Commercial building. W. W. Espey, a real estate agent, was at work at his desk across the area and Justice Seton asked him to look across while he made the couple one. The mother of the bride was the other witness. When the knot had been tied Espey noted that the bridegroom failed to kiss the bride. "Hi, there, young man!" he shouted across the area; "you forgot to kiss the bride." "She won't hold still long enough," shouted back the bridegroom. Then Judge Seton brought the marriage certificate around to Espey and secured his signature.

Practical Women's Club.

In Watertown, Mass., the Woman's club, through its forestry committee, is paying the expenses and managing the business of a flourishing farm garden, where 40 children are cultivating plots of ground varying from 9 feet by 13 to 9 feet by 30, raising not only vegetables, which they can do anything they like with, but several of the more popular flowers. The classes meet twice a week for an hour each, and if a pupil is absent a substitute is sent. Another of these school gardens is run by the Homecrofters' Guild, in connection with the social experiment which George H. Maxwell has initiated at Watertown.

That Foolish Book.

He (five years after)—All this gush about love is extremely foolish. Wherever did this stupid book come from? I must say the person who selected it showed a very insipid taste.

She (quietly)—It's the book you gave me during our honeymoon, John; we read it 11 times the first week we had it.—Tit-Bits.

Use for Orange Peel.

If when making apple sauce you find you are without a lemon for flavoring use in place, if convenient, the grated peel of a very tart orange, and the apple sauce will be found delicious.

Seasonable Entertainments and Suggestions for Social Functions

By EDITH A. BROWN
Society Editor of the Chicago Record-Herald.

Entertainment Appropriate for Autumn—The Nation's Floral Emblem and the National Flag for Decoration—Color Scheme a Deep, Rich Yellow—"Syracuse Egg-Nog"—A Guessing Contest of Authors—Novel Game Half a Century Old.

The days have come when the whole country blossoms with the goldenrod. Aside from its beauty, the goldenrod is the nation's floral emblem, and hostesses may combine a love for the beautiful with a bit of patriotism in choosing to do special honor to the flower in entertainment.

For an early fall luncheon the goldenrod will form the prettiest kind of a decoration. The whole color scheme, of course, must be in the deep rich yellow which characterizes its own coloring. The decoration of the house depends entirely upon its arrangement, but great masses of the flower should be used, with the flag of the United States here and there to bring out the honor bestowed upon it by the nation. The hostess should be gowned in yellow, and her table should be laid in yellow and white. A yellow lining for a sheer table covering would make a pretty foundation decoration.

The flower, in itself, is too stiff to arrange in any but bouquet form for a centerpiece, but wide yellow satin ribbon can be used at the table with good effect. For the place cards, have the ordinary white card run through at one corner with a small gilded rod on which the name is written or printed. On the card have sentiments concerning the goldenrod like the following:

Still the goldenrod of the roadside clod is of all the best.
—Clark.

Type of all the wealth to be—Goldenrod!
—Goodale.

I know all the lands are lit
With all the autumn blaze of goldenrod.
—Helen Hunt Jackson.

Because its sun-shaped blossoms show
How souls receive the light of God,
And unto earth give back that glow—
I thank Him for the goldenrod.
—Larcom.

The hollows are heavy and dark
With the steam of the goldenrods.
—Taylor.

Welcome, dear goldenrod, once more
Thou mimic, flowering elm!
I always think that summer's store
Hangs from thy laden stem.
—Seudder.

Graceful, tossing plume of glowing gold,
Waving lonely on the rocky ledge;
Leaning seaward, lovely to behold,
Clinging to the high cliff's ragged edge.
—Celia Thaxter.

The walls of the room should be draped with the national flag.
For the menu, open with halved nutmeg melon. Follow with a clear bouillon, in which carrots are diced. Then may come sweetbreads with egg sauce, creamed chicken with tiny baking powder biscuits, sweet potato croquettes and mashed yellow turnips, egg salad with mayonnaise, orange ice with sunshine cake or lady fingers.

With this luncheon, also, a new dish called Syracuse egg-nog would serve prettily. This is made by beating the yolks of four eggs with half a pint of sugar until thick. Over this pour two quarts of strong lemonade, adding the grated rind of one lemon. Pour into the pitcher, from which it is to be served, and pile on the top the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Dust this with nutmeg. The egg-nog is served with shaved ice in thin stemmed glasses, and whether this or the orange ice be used, place on the plate a spray of the goldenrod.

"Author" Guessing Contest.

Although the guessing contest as a means of entertainment has grown into such popularity of late that it seems a recent idea, in reality it is far from new. Some time ago an interested reader sent me a list of questions for a guessing contest which was found in an old scrap book, and was arranged almost a half century ago. The questions, many of them, alluded to the fashions of the period in which they were written, and these have been omitted from the list below, their places having been filled for this occasion with questions which bring them into the possible knowledge of present-day folk. The answers to the questions had been lost, but thought and research have filled in most of these, and the game, with its new additions, is passed on for the benefit of the hostesses of the fall and winter, and particularly for the chairman of the social committees of the various clubs and societies who, I am sure, will greet the old game with joy.

Every question must be answered by the name of an author, and, naturally, from the age of the game, the author must be one who was well-known and popular—alive or dead—50 years ago. Now, it is an easy matter to guess the names of folk prominent in the public eye in one's own time, but for the famed of a half century and more before one's time, the rusted hinges of the brain must be set to working, and even the women of the "literature department" will be kept busy with this game, which is as follows:

1. What a rough man said when he wished his son to eat properly. (Chaucer).
2. Is a lion's house dug in the side of a hill where there is no water. (Dryden).

3. Pilgrims and flatterers have knelt low to kiss him. (Pope).
4. Makes and mends for first-class customers. (Taylor).

5. Represents the dwellings of civilized men. (Holmes).
6. Is worn on the head. (Hare).

7. A name that means such fiery things.
I can't describe their pains and stings. (Burns).

8. Belonging to a monastery. (Abbot).

9. Not one of the four points of the compass, but inclined toward one of them. (Southey).

10. Is what an oyster heap is like to be. (Shelley).

11. Is a chain of hills containing a dark treasure. (Coleridge).

12. Always youthful. (Young).

13. An American manufacturing town. (Lowell).

14. Humpbacked, but not deformed. (Campbell).

15. An internal pain. (Akenstide).

16. Value of a word. (Wordsworth).

17. A ten-footer whose name begins with 50. (Longfellow).

18. A worker in precious metals. (Goldsmith).

19. A vital part of the body. (Harte).

20. Small talk and a heavy weight (Chatterton).

21. Comes from a pig. (Bacon).

22. A domestic worker. (Butler).

23. A slang expression. (Dickens).

24. A young domestic animal. (Lamb).

25. "Mamma is in perfect health, my child,"
And thus he named a poet mild (Motherwell).

26. A girl's name and a male relation. (Addison).

27. A disagreeable fellow to have on one's foot. (Bunyan).

28. An official dreaded by the students of English universities. (Proctor).

29. His middle name is suggestive of an Indian or a Hottentot. (Whittier). (This, also, might be Thackeray).

30. A game and a male of the human species. (Tennyson).

31. Meat! What are you doing? (Browning).

32. Very fast indeed. (Swift).

33. To agitate a weapon. (Shakespeare).

34. Put an edible grain 'twixt an ant and a bee,
And a much-loved poet you will see. (Bryant).

35. A common domestic animal and what it can never do. (Cowper).

36. Each living head in time, 'tis said,
Will turn to him 'though he be dead. (Gray).

37. To precede. (Prior).

38. A coin-fraction and a weight. (Milton).

39. An elevated woman. (Toplady).

40. A name and a small house. (Alcott).

41. Near and rapid. (Byron).

42. Celebrated in war and literature. (Sheridan).

43. A meeting house and a high place. (Churchill).

44. A worker in barrels. (Cooper).

45. A sly pig. (Cunningham).

46. A boy's name and a boy. (Emerson).

47. A renter. (Tennant).

48. True of the ladies. (Lovelace).

49. Inclined toward royalty. (Kingsley).

50. With my first, I a berry disclose,
My second's the tear of a rose. (Hawthorne).

Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

What Puzzled Him.

The late Alonzo Starkey, of Braintree, Vt., who was sheriff or deputy sheriff of Windham county continuously more than 40 years, had a good story on himself that he enjoyed telling for the benefit of "cock-sure" aspirants for political office. Mr. Starkey was a conscientious official of wide reputation, bubbling over with native wit. After serving a term as sheriff he yielded to the persuasion of his friends and stood for reelection going to the county convention "confident," as he expressed it, "that the thing was as good as settled" in his favor. The nomination went to another man, Mr. Starkey receiving but nine votes. When the convention adjourned over 30 delegates hastened to express to the defeated candidate their surprise and regret that he did not win, and to assure him that they voted for him, whereupon Mr. Starkey facetiously remarked: "Gentlemen, I would like to know how in the devil it was possible for you to deposit over 30 ballots in the box for me, and have only nine of them counted."—Boston Herald.

Personally Ventilated.

There was nothing else in the world which Norah Leahy, competent scrub-woman, feared as much as a thunderstorm. Her accounts of experiences during the summer were always sure to contain a few thrilling incidents connected with heavy showers. "The wurst time Iver I had was in the Hiram buildin' wan Saturday in the summer o' ninety-four," Mrs. Leahy is certain to tell a new listener. "In the middle o' the afternoon, when they'd all gone from the upper flure, an' I was there wif me mop, there came up the ferfullest storm that Iver I saw. When it burst, I ran to a coat-closet an' shut meself in, an' I says to meself: 'Whin the thunder dies down, I'll step out, and not be fool.' An' if you'll believe me, I was two full hours shut in that closet, wid no ventilation but me own breath."—Youth's Companion.

The Selling of Marmaduke

By FOX RUSSELL.

How brightly the wintry sun shone out as I watched the detaining of my horse at Mudbury! Hunting in a strange country delights me; new scenes, other faces, everything fresh. I was tired of the old pack—no "go," no dash; above all, no pretty faces there.

So I thought a run down into the Blazington country might brighten me up. In the train I sat opposite a divinity in black—must admit that divinity rather scowled when I tried to open conversation by offering her my paper to read—who thrilled my too susceptible heart to such an extent that—but really, this has nothing to do with my story.

Before I had gone a mile on the road to the meet I was overtaken by Hixon, a man I knew living in the Blazington country.

"Oh, delighted to see you!" he exclaimed. "But how comes it that you've deserted your own pack? Good morning, Miss Clare," he broke off, as a very pretty girl trotted gently past, favoring Hixon with the sweetest of smiles. Hixon is rather an old fool about women. I don't like to see it in him, a man of a certain age; he is at least a year older than I am.

"Who's the lady, Hixon?" I asked in indifferent tones.

"That's Miss Clare, of Broughton; you must take care not to—" But just at that moment the lady pulled up and looked back at Hixon. Really, it was nothing to be concerned about; but he became positively insufferable when he saw the glance. I determined then and there to save him from making an ass of himself, if I could, so said:

"Hixon, you must introduce me!" and he had to do it.

"Miss Clare, allow me to introduce my friend, Mr. Marmaduke Amor."

Miss Clare bowed. Oh, what a bow! what grace! what abandon! what—but never mind. I at once attached myself to her, and commenced thinking out some scheme for "shaking" Hixon. Arrived at the meet, he fortunately began talking to a friend, and Miss Clare and I edged away together.

RETURNED HOME WITH A CRUSHED HAT, A MUDDY COAT AND A MIND ILL AT EASE.

"Are you quite a stranger here, Mr. Amor?" she said so archly, so—but never mind.

"Quite," I answered, "but I'm not sure that I shall be in future." I have a way of expressing a great deal with my eye, and I turned it full on to her glorious face as I spoke.

"Now, will you, my dear Miss Clare, take pity on me, and act as my 'guide, philosopher and friend' to-day?"

She replied that she should be delighted. Most fascinating girl this; quite eclipsed divinity in train.

Whilst hounds were drawing the first covert, Hixon, in his usual interfering manner, ranged up alongside, and whispered to me—awfully rude of the man to whisper—

"I say, my boy, take care! The lady knows a thing or two, and—" but I merely nodded distantly, and resumed my tete-a-tete with Miss Clare.

We had been talking for about ten minutes, when some one rode round the covert, and said, rather pointedly: "I wish you gentlemen would be a little quieter, or we shall never get a fox to break this way."

Now, I don't know how to sneer, but I did my best; and then that idiot Hixon asked me what I was "making faces" for.

Soon after this, we "found" and away streamed the pack out of the wood and across the lower end of our meadow. "Toot, toot!" on the horn, and off we went.

We jumped a two-foot-high rail and across the heavy arable we pounded slowly on, my charming companion at my side. Hounds had got well through a fair-sized post and rails, as we began gathering our horses together for the jump. Then Miss Clare turned bewitchingly to me, and exclaimed:

"My horse will be so disappointed; he loves jumping; but I'm really too great a coward to ride at this. Would you mind coming with me to that gate and opening it?"

Would I mind! Ask Lancelot if he would mind riding alone with Guttenberg!

The gate was some distance left-handed of the line which hounds were running, and the divergence lost us a great deal of ground; but we rode doggedly on, hoping for a check.

"Poor Marmaduke!" sighed Miss Clare; he is really too bold for a timid rider like me. I'm afraid I must sell him and hunt my old cob again. You wouldn't be ashamed of piloting me, even then, would you, Captain—Captain—er—do forgive me, but I've forgotten both your name and regiment."

"Mr.—not captain—and I haven't got a regiment," I replied, inwardly resolving to join the Volunteers forthwith.

"Well, do you know, I was wondering at an officer proving such an entertaining companion, and yet—I suppose it was your military appearance that deceived me."

What a nice, sensible girl this! We went on a little farther, only encountering the easiest fences. Presently she said:

"How strange that my horse should be named Marmaduke—your own name."

I had remarked this. It was strange, because Marmaduke is an uncommon name.

"I suppose you don't know of anyone who wants a really good hunter, do you?" she observed in somewhat downcast tones.

Now, this was a rare good-looking horse. Why should not I—?

"May I ask the price?" I said.

"Well, what I particularly want is a good horse for him. You know more about these things than I, Mr. Amor. Would, 'timidly,' 'would $750 be too much to ask, do you think?'"

"I'll send you a check to-night, and you can let me have him when you like," I answered gallantly. "Shall I make it payable to you?"

"Oh, thanks so much. Make it out to Alicia Clare," with one of her brightest smiles. Then, patting her steed's glossy neck, she murmured:

"Poor Marmaduke, you're sold!" I remembered those words later on.

That evening I dispatched my check to Miss Alicia Clare. Alicia! how I lingered over the writing of that dear name! It seemed so full of pathos, so—never mind.

The following Tuesday I hunted my new purchase for the first time, and, in the course of a short run, he refused every fence but two, at both of which he fell. I couldn't understand it. Miss Clare said that he was a big, bold jumper, and I returned home with a crushed hat, a muddy coat and a mind ill at ease. Next night I met Hixon at the club.

"Hello!" he exclaimed; "what became of you and the pretty horse-breaker that day?"

"What pretty horse-breaker do you refer to?" I asked, stiffly.

"Why, Ally Clare, of course. I tried to warn you about her horse-dealing games, but you were so stand-offish, my dear Marmaduke" (wish he wouldn't "dear Marmaduke" me) "that I couldn't—"

"Then—then—Miss Clare is—?"

"Miss Clare is the daughter of old Jake Clare, the horse-dealer. She flirts outrageously with every man she meets and sells her brutes to the biggest fools" (this man is insufferable!). "The wretch she rode the day you were down—they only gave $100 for him, as he couldn't jump a straw—she had him two days, and then palmed him off upon some silly idiot for $750!" and he roared with laughter in his own underbred vulgar manner till I could have kicked him.

"Poor Marmaduke, you're sold!" The words returned to me with a distinctness which was positively painful. I have not renewed my acquaintance with Miss Clare.

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

THE SILENCED GRUMBLE.

There was a humble bumble-bee
Who grumbled while he hummed;
But his grumble soon was humbled
By the tune he humbly hummed.

After rumble and much mumble
Was his humble grumble dumb'd,
For "I Want You, Mah Honey,"
Was the tune he humbly hummed.
—Judge.

—THE HUSBAND'S BEAT.

"That she's married!" chimed in a gruff voice just then, as the hubby appeared with a club.

They Had Met.

"When you go to New Zealand, I wish you would inquire after my great-grandfather, Jeremiah Thompson."

"Certainly," said the traveler, and wherever he went he asked for news of the ancestor, but without avail, according to the Dundee Advertiser. One day he was introduced to a fine old Maori of advanced age. "Did you ever meet with an Englishman named Jeremiah Thompson?" he asked. A smile passed over the Maori's face. "Meet him?" he repeated. "Why, I ate him!"

Bargaining With a Navajo

Major Chauncey B. Barker, who was the transport quartermaster who conducted the recent cruise of the Sumner to Cuban ports with the Santiago battlefields commission, has spent much time among the western Indians and has a fine collection of blankets, which have attracted much attention since he has been stationed at Washington. Many of the blankets were secured from Indians whose names have a place in the history of the army.

"One of the finest saddle blankets in my collection," said Major Barker to a New York Tribune reporter the other day, "is a saddle blanket which once adorned the war pony of Black Horse, a Navajo chief who never became very friendly with the whites. I was out in Arizona holding a powwow with a bunch of drifters whom the government wanted corralled on a reservation when I met Black Horse. He would not come within the circle or smoke the pipe of peace, but hung around on the outside, sullen, ultra-dignified and unapproachable.

"One afternoon I saw his saddle blanket—one of the most beautiful I had ever seen—and a great desire to possess it overcame me. Through our interpreter I sent him an offer of $25, to which he would not even reply. I raised the offer to $50, but the answer was only a grunt. Finally he informed the interpreter that the white captain did not have enough money to buy his blanket.

"Knowing something of the Indian character I thought out a way of getting the blanket and at the same time winning the friendship of the chief, which was important in the official matter we had on hand. I sent word to Black Horse that the white captain at last realized his great worth and importance; felt that he was the greatest of all great Indians, and that he was more than worthy of being my guest at a feast which I wished to prepare for him. I told him that he might bring a friend if he knew one who was worthy enough, or that he could come alone if it suited his dignity better. I asked him when he would accept such an invitation.

The vanity of the old chief was tickled. He said he would come the next night, which would give him time to work up an appetite that would do justice to the white captain's dinner.

"I prepared a feast which I knew he would like. There was a stew of potatoes and beans and onions and meat. All Indians like a stew better than anything else, and they detest individual dishes. I found in the stores several cans of apples and had them opened up. Then I brewed a punch, favoring it with the apple juice. This was poured out in great tin cups holding fully a pint. Before we began I intimated to Black Horse that at the white captain's table he should sip the punch no faster than did the white captain.

"The dinner progressed famously. All the while Black Horse kept his eye on me and never missed an opportunity to sip from the tin cup when I did. He sipped a little harder, and presently his cup was empty. I reached over and poured into his cup more than half of the punch which remained in mine. An Indian can understand your giving him half of anything you have, but the man who will give you more than half is generous beyond belief.

"At last the moment came for a final play for the blanket. I arose and made a speech. Finally I took off the uniform blouse, which was about as disreputable a looking one as an officer ever wore. I had worn it three months in the brush, and it certainly showed it. This blouse, I explained to him, was made for the father of the white captain's father many, many years ago. It was old, and it was near to the white captain's heart. But so was Black Horse, and the blouse was to be his.

"He took it with more eagerness than an Indian usually shows about anything, and then he made his speech. He spoke principally about himself and made himself out a very great man. Then he muttered something and left the tent for a moment. When he returned he had the saddle blanket, which with a fine bow he cast at my feet."

Operation on a Hen.

One of the favorite hens becoming ill Samuel Supton and R. E. Fountain, chicken fanciers, performed an operation, which has evidently proved very successful, as it saved the chicken's life.

It was discovered that the fowl was suffering from "craw irritation," caused by eating small pieces of glass. The craw was opened, thoroughly washed out, sewed up with white cotton and now the hen is as lively as a young chicken.—Ridgely (Md.) Correspondence Philadelphia Record.

Chloroform Affects Plants.

Some plants are affected by chloroform, just as animals are. Sensitive plants, which shrink from the human touch in ordinary circumstances, lose their irritability in air charged with chloroform vapor.

The Bill.

Knicker—Summer expenses are heavy.

Bocker—Yes, I have to pay all my wife's, all my own and an extra chunk to keep her from knowing mine.—N. Y. Sun.

COULD NOT KEEP UP.

Broken Down, Like Many Another Woman, with Exhausting Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. A. Taylor, of Wharton, N. J., says: "I had kidney trouble in its most painful and severe form, and the torture I went through now seems to have been almost unbearable. I had back-ache, pains in the side and loins, dizzy spells and hot, feverish headaches. There were bearing-down pains, and the kidney secretions passed too frequently, and with a burning sensation. They showed sediment. I became discouraged, weak, languid and depressed, so sick and weak that I could not keep up. As doctors did not cure me I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and with such success that my troubles were all gone after using eight boxes, and my strength, ambition and general health is fine."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A man never realizes the goodness of his neighbors until he is sick.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES color more goods, brighter colors, with less work than others.

When a man combines business with pleasure business usually gets the short end of it.

Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c cigar made of rich, mellow tobacco. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

After a man has tackled three or four enterprises and failed to succeed in any of them, he usually sets himself up as a pessimist.

Ian MacLaren's Successor.

The Rev. Alexander Connell, who succeeds to Ian MacLaren's pulpit at Setton Park, Liverpool, has been pastor of Regent Square Presbyterian church, London, since 1893. He was born in the Scotch Highlands just 40 years ago.

A Twenty-Year-Old Fact.

Do you want to stop those chills, get well, fat and happy? We think you do. If so, use Cheatham's Chill Tonic. It is not an experiment, but a twenty-year-old fact. For that number of years it has cured all kinds of Chills and still does so. It is guaranteed.

His Interest Was Personal.

An eccentric member of the British parliament who died recently endeavored vainly during a quarter of a century to get passed into law a bill for preventing persons from standing outside windows while cleaning them. During his last session the old fellow complained to a colleague that his object in introducing the bill had been quite misunderstood by the house for these 25 years. "I introduced the bill," said he, "not for the sake of the window cleaners, but for the sake of the people below, on whom they might fall. The idea of the bill was suggested to me by the fear that a window cleaner might fall on myself."

Butler's Stolen Fee.

The late Hon. Joseph Q. Hoyt, formerly of Boston, when a lad attended a circus and his silver watch was stolen. The supposed thief was arrested, and was defended by Benjamin F. Butler, who proved he did not take the watch, and never was at the circus.

During the civil war Hoyt was introduced to Butler at a dinner at the Astor house, in New York, and the latter remarked: "This is the first time I have had the pleasure of meeting you."

"Oh, no!" said Hoyt, who then related the circus incident.

"Was that you, Hoyt?" asked Butler, and, being answered in the affirmative, Butler laughed and said: "That was an awful good watch, Hoyt. That is all I got for defending the thief."

SALLOW FACES

Often Caused by Coffee Drinking.

How many persons realize that coffee so disturbs digestion that it produces a muddy, yellow complexion?

A ten days' trial of Postum Food Coffee has proven a means, in thousands of cases, of clearing up bad complexions.

A Washa. young lady tells her experience:

"All of us—father, mother, sister and brother—had used tea and coffee for many years until finally we all had stomach troubles more or less.

"We were all sallow and troubled with pimples, breath bad, disagreeable taste in the mouth, and all of us simply so many bundles of nerves.

"We didn't realize that coffee was the cause of the trouble until one day we ran out of coffee and went to borrow some from a neighbor. She gave us some Postum and told us to try that.

"Although we started to make it, we all felt sure we would be sick if we missed our strong coffee, but we were forced to try Postum and were surprised to find it delicious.

"We read the statements on the pkg., got more and in a month and a half you wouldn't have known us. We were all able to digest our food without any trouble, each one's skin became clear, tongues cleaned off and nerves in fine condition. We never use anything now but Postum. There is nothing like it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a reason."

POPE'S STRONG COMMON SENSE.

Pontiff Refused to Be Made an Invalid by a Pen Prick.

The following story is told of Pius X. by the Rome correspondent of the London Pall Mall Gazette:

The other day he was writing at his desk, when his pen began to splutter. He decided to change it, but it stuck, and it was only after a strong pull that it came out, promptly pricking him under his nail, for which probably he would have followed the natural impulse to put it in his mouth, and we would have heard nothing more of the incident had there not been an ink-stain also. His exclamation brought his secretary, who washed away the blood with disinfectants, to obviate microbes, and bound it up, at the same time suggesting a doctor's visit.

"No, no," said the pontiff laughing, "it would be known to the press at once; I should be killed and buried by them before he could arrive!" Those surrounding him would have liked to make the slight mishap an excuse for stopping the audiences, but Pius X. was somewhat annoyed at the suggestion, saying, "Enough, enough! What is a pen-prick! You make me ridiculous. I have not ceased to be a man and become a baby!" So he was present at the ceremony in commemoration of his predecessor, making jokes about his bandaged finger.

Good Colors for Houses.

It is not generally known—not even among painters—why certain tints and colors wear much better than others on houses, and the knowledge of just what tints are best to use is, therefore, rather hazy.

One writer on paints, in a recent book, says that experiments seem to show that those colors which resist or turn back the heat rays of the sun, will protect a house better than those which allow these rays to pass through the film.

Thus red is a good color because it turns back, or reflects the red rays, and the red rays are the hot rays. In general, therefore, the warm tones are good and the cold tones are poor, so far as wear is concerned. In choosing the color of paint for your house, select reds, browns, grays and olives, which, considering the various tones these tints will produce, will give a wide range from which to choose.

Avoid the harsh tints, such as cold yellows (like lemon), cold blues (like grass green, etc.), and the blues.

It must be understood that no virtue is claimed for tints in themselves, irrespective of the materials used in the paint. Any color will fade, and the paint will scale off, if adulterated white lead or canned paint is used, but if one is careful to use the best white lead—some well-known brand of a reliable manufacturer—and genuine linseed oil, the warm tints mentioned above will outwear the same material tinted with the cold colors.

Another Dig at Powers.

A few days ago Gov. Cobb, of Maine, and Hon. W. R. Pattangall, prominent in politics in the same state, were together on a train. Mr. Pattangall is a lawyer and an editor, the writer of the humorous "Maddy-bumps Letters" appearing in his paper, the Machias Union.

In the course of conversation, Gov. Cobb remarked to Mr. Pattangall: "I don't see why you and Lilwellyn Powers should be so extremely antagonistic to each other. Neither of you ever fails to give the other a rap when there is opportunity."

At this point an interested listener in the car leaned toward their chairs and asked: "Is it really true that ex-Gov. Powers is of Indian descent?"

"Well, the Indians deny it," Mr. Pattangall answered, in his inimitable manner.

Considered the Proprieties.

A man in Dallas county tried to shuffle off this mortal coil by hanging himself with a blind bridle. His wife found him suspended from a rafter in the barn. He was wroth at her interposition, saying: "If you had let me alone a few minutes more I would have been in heaven." His wife replied: "Yes, and you would have looked nice running around over heaven with a blind bridle on, wouldn't you?"—Thockmorton (Tex.) Times.

Saved Him.

"It didn't kill me, but I think it would if it had not been for Hunt's Cure. I was tired, miserable and well-nigh used up when I commenced using it for an old and severe case of Eczema. One application relieved and one box cured me.

"I believe Hunt's Cure will cure any form of itching known to mankind." Clifton Lawrence, Helena, O. T.

Poison in Yolk of Eggs.

M. G. Loisel has arrived at the somewhat startling conclusion that the yolk of the eggs of fowls and ducks, as well as those of the tortoise, contains poisonous substances. When isolated and injected into the veins of rabbits or other animals these promptly cause death. The phenomena produced are those of acute intoxication of the central nervous system.

In a Pinch, Use ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE.

A powder. It cures painful, smarting, nervous feet and ingrowing nails. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Makes new shoes easy. A certain cure for sweating feet. 30,000 testimonials of cures. Sold by all druggists, 25c. Trial package, FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

If a woman believes her husband is bad, the chances are he will make good.

Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c. Many smokers prefer them to 10c cigars. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

The school of experience is open 24 hours each day.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c. per bottle. One size only.

Genuine—Syrup of Figs

IF YOU WANT A CHILL TONIC

Guaranteed NOT to Contain a Particle of POISON and that WILL CURE CHILLS AND FEVERS use

OXIDINE

For Sale by All Druggists Price 50 Cents

Read the following analysis made by the state chemist who analyzed three bottles of Oxidine sent to him by the Secretary of the State Pharmaceutical Association (The Texas Retail Druggists Association):

Houston Laboratories

Chemical and Biological

Analysis and Valuation of Cotton Seed and Rice Products a Specialty. Waters, Soils, Oils, Greases, Etc., Carefully Examined and Reported Upon. Reports Made on Economic Geology.

P. S. TILSON, Director, Analytical and Consulting Chemist
215 1-3 MAIN STREET
HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 27, 1906.

DEAR SIR: Herewith I beg to hand you certificate of analysis of the Oxidine you submitted a few days since. I trust this will be duly received and found entirely satisfactory. I have kept you waiting for a little while, but I appreciate the responsibility which you have seen fit to place upon me; for that reason I have taken my time to be certain and accurate about my results. If I can serve you in the future please advise me. Thanking you, I beg to remain, Yours very truly,
P. S. TILSON, Chemist.

Houston Laboratories

Chemical and Biological

Analysis and Valuation of Cotton Seed and Rice Products a Specialty. Waters, Soils, Oils, Greases, Etc., Carefully Examined and Reported Upon. Reports Made on Economic Geology.

P. S. TILSON, Director, Analytical and Consulting Chemist
215 1-3 MAIN STREET
HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 27, 1906.

CERTIFICATE OF ANALYSIS
Of Three Bottles of Oxidine Submitted by R. H. Walker, of Gonzales, Texas, Secretary of the State Pharmaceutical Association.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 27, 1906.

I find this Oxidine to contain absolutely no poisonous or injurious drugs or chemicals and not a trace of Arsenic, Codeine, Morphine, Bicine or strychnine, nor, in fact, anything that would produce a harmful effect whatever.

Respectfully submitted,
P. S. TILSON, Chemist.

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY
Dallas, Texas—PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG COMPANY, Manufacturing Druggists—Memphis, Tenn.
Paid in Capital and Surplus, $250,000.00

H. H. ADAMS, President	M. H. TURNER, Vice-President	R. H. COMPTON, 2nd Vice-President	H. O. ADAMS, Secretary and Treas.
------------------------	------------------------------	-----------------------------------	-----------------------------------

DIRECTORS
ROYAL A. FERRIS, Pres. American Exchange Nat'l Bank, Dallas, Texas
GEO. N. ALDRIDGE, Director American Exchange Nat'l Bank, Dallas, Texas
ALF. SANDER, Pres. Sanger Bros., Dallas, Texas
H. H. ADAMS, President
R. H. STEWART, Pres. Boren & Stewart Wholesale Grocers, Dallas, Texas
FRED H. TURNER, Cotton Planter, Dallas, Texas
J. I. BRADFORD, Merchant, Dallas, Texas
M. H. TURNER, Vice-President
R. H. COMPTON, 2nd Vice-President

OXIDINE, THE CHILL CURE THAT CURES CHILLS

Large as Prehistoric Monsters.

Some of the largest and most important animals are bigger now than they were in the prehistoric times. That is true of the whale and emphatically so of the horse. The best authorities hold that in bulk and weight the largest whales now in existence are larger than any of the long-named monsters that abounded in the early ages of the earth.

Try It Once.

There is more actual misery and less real danger in a case of itching skin disease than any other ailment. Hunt's Cure is manufactured especially for these cases. It relieves instantly and cures promptly. Absolutely guaranteed.

Gen. Mercier in England.

Gen. Mercier, who has fled from Paris to England, where he hasn't been enthusiastically received, once delivered in the French senate an elaborate speech on the feasibility of invading England.

Missionary Work in Africa.

All missionary societies at work in Africa have now in round numbers 1,000 principal mission stations, with about 5,000 sub-stations.

A woman's idea of economy is to use a gas range for the purpose of cutting down the coal bill.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

True friends seldom come in bunches.

Libby's Food Products

enable you to enjoy your meals without having to spend half your time between them over a hot cook-stove.

All the cooking is done in Libby's kitchen—a kitchen as clean and neat as your own, and there's nothing for you to do but enjoy the result.

Libby's Products are selected meats, cooked by cooks who know how, and only the good parts packed.

For a quick and delicious lunch any time, in door or out, try Libby's Melrose Pate—with Libby's Camp Sauce.

Booklet free, "How to Make Good Things to Eat." Write Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago

Libby's Melrose Pate

60 Bus. Winter Wheat Per Acre
That's the yield of Salzer's Red Cross Hybrid Winter Wheat. Send 2c in stamps for free sample of same, also catalogue of Winter Wheat, Rye, Barley, Clovers, Timothy, Grasses, Bulbs, Trees, etc. for fall planting. SALZER SEED CO., Box 7, La Crosse, Wis.

DEFIANCE Cold Water Starch
makes laundry work a pleasure. 16 oz. pkg. 10c.

PILES—NO MONEY TILL CURED. SEND FOR FREE ILLUS. TREATISE ON PILES. DRUGS THORNTON & MINOR—801 OAK ST. KANSAS CITY, MO. (BRANCH OFFICE AT ST. LOUIS)

Buchan's GREASYLIC Ointment

is a positive necessity to every cattleman, will quickly heal wounds and sores on all animals, won't first premium at Texas State Fair and for 40 years has been the standard remedy for SCREW WORMS AND FOOT ROT Put up in 4 oz. bottles and 4 oz., 1 lb., 2 lb., and 5 lb. screw-top cans. Insist on Buchan's Greasylic Ointment. Sold by druggists and grocers or write CARBOLIC SOAP CO., NEW YORK CITY.

DO YOU WANT A JOB? Structural steel and railroad yards and wharves of San Francisco. The banks are over-loaded with the money of the people anxious to put it into buildings. The construction kind of labor commands from $7.50 to $4 a day; carpenters get from $5 to $6 a day; bricklayers and plasterers from $4 to $5 a day. If you want the facts direct a letter to the BUREAU OF PUBLICITY, R. 214, Union Trust Bldg., San Francisco, and get full particulars.

Wanted for U. S. Army Able-bodied unmarried men, between ages of 21 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write English. For information apply to Recruiting Officer, Post Office Bldg., Oklahoma, Guthrie, Okla. Shawnee, O. T., or S. McAlester and Muskogee, I. T.

DEFIANCE STARCH—16 ounces is the package—other starches only 12 ounces—same price and "DEFIANCE" IS SUPERIOR QUALITY.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

SALESMEN WANTED.

We want a live, active and thoroughly experienced salesman in this locality with sufficient money to buy outright his first month's supply of our Electric Low Pressure Hollow Wire Gasoline Lights. A utility needed in every store and home and fully complying with insurance rules. To such a man we will give exclusive sales rights and guarantee to refund money if goods not sold in 30 days. Further particulars on request. The Standard Electric Light Co., 930 N. Halsted St., Chicago, Ill.

PORTRAITS from FRAMES from 30 days credit to all agents. Catalogues and sample free. N. M. FRIEDMAN & CO., Box 52, Martinsburg, Md.

W. N. U., Oklahoma City, No. 34, 1906

Plantation Chill Cure is Guaranteed

To Cure, or Money Refunded by Your Merchant. So. Why Not Try IT? Price, 50c, Retail.

Ada Evening News

OTIS B. WEAVER, PUBLISHER
M. D. STEINER, BUSINESS MGR.

Entered as second-class mail matter March 25, 1904, at the post office at Ada, Indian Territory under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

Advertising rates on application.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Subject to the action of the Democratic county primary election.

For Sheriff
ROBERT NESTER
A. A. (GUS) BOBBITT
L. E. (LEM) MITCHELL
MART WALSH
JAMES D. GAAR
J. D. (ED) FUSSELL

For County Clerk
C. A. (CHARLIE) POWERS
W. S. (SAM) KERR
H. WOODARD

For County Treasurer
J. C. CATES

For County Tax Assessor
C. C. HARGIS
W. H. NETTLES

Subject to the action of the Democratic district primary.

For Delegate to the Constitutional Convention

J. R. LAWRENCE
CARLTON WEAVER

Ed. Harrison is reported quite sick. Rev. Cassidy, wife and children returned from Holdenville this morning. E. Riddle, a banker, of Maud, came in this morning on his way to Holdenville on business.

Mrs. J. M. Taylor and daughter, Susie, returned Sunday from a two weeks' stay at Dallas, Texas.

Miss Ida Hays and brother left this morning for Stonewall, where they will attend school this winter.

J. H. Pryor and two grand-daughters, Beth and Polly Dunston, returned this morning from a visit to Shawnee. I will trade a good sewing machine for a sheet, also an organ for a pony. 20-24t w18-4t Lee Smith.

A replevin suit of C. A. and W. H. McFarland vs. E. W. Morris, constable, is being heard in the mayor's court this afternoon.

Judge J. M. Doss is at his office today after being confined several weeks to his bed by illness. The Judge has lost considerable adiposoids during his confinement.

Rev. C. F. Robertson, of Wapanucka, has been called to the pastorate of the Old School Presbyterian church, and is expected here about Sept. 20.

Mrs. M. G. Meadows, organizer of the Woodman Circle, of Dallas, who came here last week on business, was taken quite sick at the Byrd hotel, but her many friends will be glad to learn that she has recovered and will resume her labors soon.

Do You Need Shoes?

If you want a pair of Shoes that combine style, elegance and individuality with the best leather and excellent workmanship, why not try ours? You will be satisfied with your selection. The latest correct styles for men, women and children.

CHAPMAN
The Shoe Man.

News' Name Election.

Official Ticket

Should the Name of Ada be Changed?

Assuming a Change, What Name do You Prefer?

[Signature]

[Street Address]

LOCAL NEWS

K. C. —Keep clean. 136 tf
The little son of Ed. Hunter is reported sick with fever.

Cupid flour at No. 17. Guaranteed the best. 95-tf

J. H. Dorland was quite sick Sunday, but is some better today.

Cupid flour, best on earth at Walsh's No. 17. 95-tf

Judge Galbraith returned Sunday from Chickasha.

Phone 70 for anything in Heinz goods. 133-tf.

Dr. Nolen was a passenger to Francis today.

Jas. M. Walsh sells for cash only. 133-tf

Dr. King went to Francis on business today.

Heinz sweet or sour pickles 10c doz. Phone 70. 133-tf

E. O. Olds, of Hickory, was in the city today.

We guarantee our Cupid flour. No 17. Walsh. 95-tf

Ladies' skirts and jackets cleaned, dyed and pressed at K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

J. E. Biles and family returned today from a visit to Wynnewood, I. T.

Walsh handles the White Swan canned goods. Phone 17. 95-tf

Miss Olney took charge of the books for Freeman & Co. this morning.

See those large and beautiful portraits at Smith's. One given with every dozen of the best photos. 126-tf

M. Scott, of Madill, spent Sunday in Ada.

Try the cash system and see what you save. Phone 70. 133-tf

C. J. Bocher, of Shawnee, is in the city looking after business interests here.

Heinz pure cider vinegar 10c Qt. Phone 70. 133-tf

Miss Mable Hurst resumed her labors in the Nickel store this morning.

My motto, "First-class work or no pay." K. C. 136 tf

Harry Sprague returned Sunday evening from a two weeks' outing at Galveston.

Smoke Cinco. Sold at Smoke House. 135 10t

Miss Carra Wilson came in from Francis Sunday to resume her studies in the city schools this year.

Money saved by buying of Jas. M. Walsh, spot cash to all. Phone 70. 129tf

W. C. Rollow left Sunday evening for St. Louis to buy a stock of fall and winter goods.

Smoke Cinco. Sold at Smoke House. 135 10t

Orville Snead and wife left Saturday evening for Daugherty to visit Mrs. Snead's parents a few days.

Better have that overcoat cleaned at the K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

Dr. and Mrs. Shands returned Sunday from a several weeks' visit in Texas.

A 10x16 portrait given with every dozen of the best photographs.—P. K. Smith. 126-tf

Miss Taylor came in from Gainesville, Texas, Sunday, to resume her work in the city schools.

"A Trip to Hawaii and Return" at the Christian church Monday night, Sept. 3. Adults, 25c; children, 15c. 137 4t

Mrs. N. A. Scott left this morning for Farmer, Texas, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Lowe.

R. W. Simpson is in New York buying his fall and winter goods.

Miss Mabel Ray, a niece of Dr. Foutz, came in Saturday evening to spend the winter in Ada and attend the city schools.

Get your cold drinks and confectionaries at Evan's neatly furnished ice cream parlor. 112-tf

Died—Sunday evening, in North Ada, the little two year old daughter of Jerd Carter and wife of fever. The remains will be taken to Center for burial.

An illustrated lecture on the Hawaiian Islands at the Christian church Monday evening, Sept. 3. 137 4t

Mrs. I. C. Clifton and baby came in Friday evening from Visalia, California, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Keyser.

Don't throw your old clothes away; have them made to look like new by Berry, at K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

J. A. Biles has accepted a position with the Cox-Greer Dry Goods company and assumed the duties of his new position today.

FOR RENT.—Good office rooms on Main street. Little Bros. 104-tf

C. C. Hargis, T. D. McKeown, W. C. Wallace, W. D. Lowden and T. T. Lancaster went to Konawa this afternoon, where they will install a Masonic lodge tonight.

M. L. Walsh will furnish you with the White Swan brand. Phone 17. 95-tf

Rev. J. W. Mathias, of Durant, was in the city over Sunday and preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Judge Galbraith, who has a valuable collection of Hawaiian views, will give the public an interesting picture and story of life in the tropics on Monday night at the Christian church for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society. 139 2t

Mrs. R. E. Haynes and son is expected to return from Holdenville this evening, where they have been visiting the past week.

Mrs. Walter Bolen left Sunday evening for her home at Francis after a few days' visit with relatives and friends in the city, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Figg, and children, who are visiting here from California.

J. B. Marsh and family, who have been here prospecting the past week, from Philippen, Ky., were so well pleased with our city and country that they have decided to locate here and have rented a house in North Ada. Mr. Marsh also purchased some lots in the new townsite of Walling.

If you want the White Swan canned goods, phone us. M. L. Walsh. 95-tf

Stereopticon views of the Hawaiian Islands, their people and products, will be shown at the Christian church next Monday evening under the patronage of the Ladies' Aid society of that church. 137 4t

J. B. Stewart and family, one of our prosperous farmers living northwest of Ada, returned Saturday afternoon from a five weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Louisiana.

Mrs. H. W. Bailey, of Sunrise, was dangerously ill Sunday evening, but is reported very much better today.

M. L. Walsh received word this morning that Miss Galliher would not be here to take her place in the store for another week, owing to sickness.

W. S. Akers, of Oklahoma City, visited friends in Ada Sunday.

Mrs. M. J. Logan, of Konawa, passed through Ada on her way home from Mannsville, I. T., where she has been visiting for some time.

Dr. Runyan made a business trip to Francis today.

Mrs. D. W. Swaffar and daughter returned today from a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends at Nevada.

LOST—Between postoffice and North Ada, a greenish brown umbrella, crooked handle; return to Miss Nell Moore. 140 1t

A. H. Constant and family are expected to return this afternoon from a two weeks' outing at Galveston.

J. Bedford and wife left this morning for Oklahoma City and other Western points.

H. M. Furman went to Holdenville this morning, where he will make a campaign speech tonight, and from there he will go on into Oklahoma, where he has dates for the rest of the week.

R. C. Kensola, wife and baby came in this morning from Madill, where they had been visiting, and left this afternoon for their home at Konawa.

Nellie Parson, of Weatherford, Texas, who has been visiting Mrs. Staggs for some time, went to Ahlosa today, where she will visit with friends a few days.

Notice.

City warrants No. 1479 and 1256 issued to T. J. Chambliss and J. P. McKinley are lost and duplicates issued to cover same and the public is hereby notified not to buy said warrants No. 1479 or 1256 as the city treasurer will not cash same. Jesse Warren, Recorder. 135-5t

Public Schools Begin.

Teachers and children gathered at the school buildings Monday morning and an organization of the classes was begun. As soon as the children were classified and informed what books they would need school was dismissed that they might procure the necessary books and other utensils and be on hand ready for work Tuesday.

New Hotel.

Mrs. S. E. Chapman recently leased the Commercial hotel building and has reopened it as a strictly first class hostelry. The house has been thoroughly renovated from basement to garret, and patrons of the house will find home like treatment at all times. 140 6t

Did a Big Business.

Monday the local booksealers did a land office business. Their patrons lined up ten deep and although extra clerks were employed one was compelled to wait some time before being waited on. However, by night the future congressmen, senators and first ladies of the land were accommodated and all are now ready for the beginning of a hard year's work.

Only a Corporal's Guard.

Sunday afternoon was the time for the regular monthly meeting of W. L. Byrd camp, Confederate Veterans. A number of them punctually assembled at the camp headquarters but neither the commander nor a lieutenant appeared. With strict adherence to the organic law, they could not hold a formal session. So those present contented themselves with holding a pleasant informal meeting, in which reminiscences of the martial past were indulged in.

Frisco Special Train Excursion

to Sulphur Springs, I. T., Sept. 16th, 1906. Rate is $1.00 for the round trip. Train leaves Ada at 10.08 a. m. Returning train leaves Sulphur Springs at 6.30 p. m. I. McNair, Agent, Ada, I. T.

Frisco Low Rates.

Commencing August 26th, we will sell until October 31st, tickets at very low rates to points in California, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, Old Mexico and Texas. Call and get particulars. I. McNair, Agent, Ada, I. T.

REMOVAL NOTICE

I have moved my shop over Freeman's store, and am better prepared than ever to do your work in first class shape. Clothes made to order a specialty. Also do cleaning, repairing, dyeing and pressing clothes. All work called for and delivered.

B. C. BERRY
TAILOR
Over Freeman's Store

'SWEETNING'

Is an attractive word, but here are a few prices on on "sweetening" that will attract the attention of every housewife in Ada.

East Texas Ribbon Cane per gallon.....65c
Louisiana Ribbon Cane, per gallon.....70c
P & F Cero Debarterie, per gallon.....65c
Evangeline, per gallon.....65c
Maple.....$1.25
Home Made Sorghum, per gallon.....50c
Honey Drips (Corn Syrup) per gallon.....40c

Don't forget us when you get hungry.

Jones Bros.

Successors to Jones & Meaders

FURMAN & CROXTON

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW

Will do a general Civil and Criminal Practice. Office in Duncan Building.

C. A. Galbraith Tom D. McKeown
GALBRAITH & McKEOWN
LAWYERS

Over Citizens National Bank Ada, Ind. Ter.

DR. CORDELIA FOUTZ
OSTEOPATH

Office and Residence at M. M. Sander's home on South Broadway. Phone 245.

ADA. IND. TER.

DR. W. T. NOLEN

—PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON—

Office over Little building, next door to Nolen drug store

Office Phone 91 Res. Phone 11

ADA STEAM LAUNDRY CO.

Is given up to be best. Do

Largest Agency Work of any plant in this Territory.

Reed & Harrison Wholesale and Retail Buggies

The Best Makes, the Lowest Prices

Geo. A. Truitt,

Engineer and Land Surveyor

Office Rear Ada National Bank.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Work Entrusted.

I have opened the

Twelfth Street Meat Market

and ask a share of your patronage. Nothing but the best of meats will be carried and your patronage will be given the most careful attention.

C. L. HICKEY.

Eyes Tested and Glasses Fitted
C. J. Warren, Optician

The NICKEL STORE

Where You Save Money on Everything.

School Books

Come here to buy your School Books. Why? Because everything is priced at its lowest net spot cash retail value. Because boy or girl can buy as cheap as man or woman. Because purchasers of School Books will be presented with book satchels as long as they last.

We're off for some more To the Nickel Store, In a very great hurry are we;

For the best sweets in the land Are the Red Band Brand, And we know where to get them you see.

Chocolates, Bon Bons and all of our Nice Fancy Candies, per lb. 12c

Stoneware

Come here for your Stoneware. You will find it here for about half what you generally pay. The usual price is 10c a gallon—buy all you want here at 6c a gallon.

We are selling Stoneware dirt cheap.

Milk Pans or Crocks, 1 gallon, usual price 10c., our price.....6c

Milk Pans or Crocks, 2 gallon, usual price 20c., our price.....12c

Our Stationery Department

This is, has been and will be one of the most successful in the store. We sell pens, ink, mullage, glue, composition books, ledgers, journals, day books, tablets both for pencil and ink, ruled and unruled. 5c.

We also in this department keep slates, slate pencils, school boxes and school supplies.

Nickel Store.

The 5c and 10c store of Ada, I. T.

S. M. Shaw, Prop
New location on Main street third door west of Rollow's corner.

Phone 77.

Helps Digestion

PURIFIES AND REGULATES

THE BOWELS

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE FOR DISEASED KIDNEYS

Accept no substitute. Insist on having the genuine PRICKLY ASH BITTERS with the large figure 3 in red on the front label

SOLD AT DRUG STORES - PRICE $1.00 PER BOTTLE

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

The Idle Sinners.

Every once in awhile the action of some young man who is enjoying a princely income brings to mind the thought that money ill-spent inevitably brings disaster to the spender. The idle rich, whose sole idea is to amuse themselves, are curses in a community. They bring themselves to premature graves, but long before their deaths they are old in sin, and are so satiated with illicit pleasure that they find no enjoyment in anything, and, like Sir Charles Coldstream in the play of "Used Up," there is nothing for them to see with astonishment. Their constant cry is "There is nothing in it," and they try to stimulate their jaded appetites with excesses that are suggestive of the declining Pagan days of Greece and Rome. Go to any of our fashionable watering places in the height of the season and you will find many indolent rich men whose faces express sensuality and a vague longing for a new sensation. Their fathers probably toiled hard for the money they are throwing away in trying to enjoy themselves with base amusements. It would have been a mercy if a few years earlier they had been deprived of their princely incomes. They might then have been of some use in the world. Now they are simply incurable. There is no breeder of vice like laziness, and this applies to all classes of young men, the poor as well as the rich, for all the vicious youth are not to be found among the rich, says the Boston Budget. Some of them come from the homes of poverty, and they rely upon poor relations for support when they do not become common thieves. Both the classes mentioned are demoralizing in the examples they set, and if they could be packed off together, to some island in the sea, where they would have to work or starve, they might develop into something human and less brutal.

Robbing of a Beggar.

The street beggar with pockets lined with money is a fairly familiar figure of city life, but one of the free dispensaries reports an instance of an attempt to get free medicine, on the plea of poverty, that deserves a place in the catalogue of good stories of "craft," says the New York Post. A middle-aged woman appeared the other day and got a prescription, after which she took her place in the line of persons waiting to have their medicine made up by the apothecary. This particular woman, it should be said, had given satisfactory answers to all the questions put to her, designed to show whether she was a proper subject for charity. Suddenly there was a cry: "I'm robbed! I'm robbed!" The victim was this woman, who so far forgot her previous professions as to assert that her pocket had been picked and that the thief had got away with $90. Then she lost the opportunity to get free medicine, thus adding, in her view, insult to injury.

American Goods in Mexico.

"American merchants could do 50 per cent. more business in Mexico were they to study the character and condition of trade in our country," said Walter E. Grevel, of Mexico City. "The main trouble with the slow sale of American merchandise in Mexico is the fact that the merchants and manufacturers demand that payment for their goods be sent upon the receipt of the bill for the same, and this bill arrives a month in advance of the goods. Of course, our merchants do not favor the idea of paying for goods before receiving them. On the other hand, European merchants are liberal in giving time limits as high as six months, and, as a consequence, enjoy a good portion of our trade."

Aliases of the Great.

Some investigator of curious subjects has discovered that the inventor of traveling incognito was Peter the Great of Russia. The next after the famous Russian sovereign to adopt the practice was Joseph II. of Austria, who in 1777 made a little stay in Paris under the title of Count von Falkenstein. During the revolutionary period Louis XVIII. buried his temporary useless royal dignity under the privacy of Comte de Lille, while Charles X. passed as Comte de Marles. Ex-Empress Eugenie in her splendor frequently took little trips as Comtesse de Pierrefonds. King Leopold does so still as Comte de Ravenstein.

Castro has taken down the presidency, which he slipped off and hung up in the closet some time ago, and finds that it fits as well as ever. There is a rumor to the effect that he did not come back at the call of the asphalt trust, which may yet have a few fits in consequence of his return.

Edison says he will soon place automobiles within the reach of all. Some of us have had to be pretty spry to get out of reach of them.

FRUIT INSTEAD OF DRUGS.

Remedial Qualities May Be Preserved by Home Manufacture.

The remedial properties of berries, all of which are of great value in different diseases, may be preserved through the home manufacture of cordials, shrubs, vinegars, etc., and by drying, in which state they are to be steeped, strained, and the water used as needed. Cherries, gooseberries, plums, peaches and apricots share in this value with the berries. Grapes are second only to figs for use in disorders which arise from a torpid or congested state of the intestines. Health depends so largely upon the regularity of the functions of the bowels that attention to them is of the utmost importance. An excellent fig preparation is an infusion by steeping one ounce of senna in a pint of boiling water; select one pound of plump, dried figs, and, having placed them in a layer in an earthen dish, pour over them the well-steeped and strained senna tea. Place this in a moderate oven and allow them to remain until the fruit has entirely absorbed the liquid. Put this in a closed jar, and for use, one fig eaten on retiring is a dose for any ordinary case of constipation. Pineapple, while of especial worth in some diseases when taken with other food, should never be eaten alone, as, failing anything else to work upon, its acid attacks the lining of the stomach itself. It is claimed that it has an especial value in certain forms of dyspepsia and in diphtheria, as its juices will cut away mucus that nothing else can remove.

All fruits, however, do not affect all persons alike. One should seek to know what is suitable in his own case, and not eat fruits merely because somebody has told him it is "good for him." Owing frequently to idiosyncrasies, as well as to certain physical conditions, fruits are often the worst things one can eat. Each person must be "a law unto himself" in this matter.—The Commoner.

THE BUTTER BILLS.

Two Ways in Which They Can Be Materially Decreased.

A thrifty housewife declares that her butter bills have fallen off one-quarter since she began serving her butter in the form of butterballs. Apart from the economy of the thing, there is no question as to the comparative daintiness and attractiveness of serving butter in one wholesale lump, and in a collection of dainty, symmetrical balls. Abroad, where fresh, unsalted butter is served as a matter of course, it generally comes on the table in a sequence of little dabs or a long, shallow roll. People who have acquired the fresh butter taste find it hard to go back to the salty product of the American creamery, and there is no reason why they should provided there is some one in the family with sufficient leisure to make a little butter, two or three times a week. A quart of double cream will make nearly a pound of butter, and any child with strength enough to use a rotary beater can do the rest.

Witnessed Marriage from Afar.

Getting a man to witness a marriage ceremony at long distance by looking through two windows and across an area between adjacent buildings is a rather novel way of obtaining a witness, but it served the purpose at Portland, Ore., recently of legally and securely tying the matrimonial knot that made Manuel Pires and Grace Sophia Schuster one. The ceremony was performed in the law office of Justice Waldemar Seton, on the third floor of the Commercial building. W. W. Espey, a real estate agent, was at work at his desk across the area and Justice Seton asked him to look across while he made the couple one. The mother of the bride was the other witness. When the knot had been tied Espey noted that the bridegroom failed to kiss the bride. "Hi, there, young man!" he shouted across the area; "you forgot to kiss the bride!" "She won't hold still long enough," shouted back the bridegroom. Then Judge Seton brought the marriage certificate around to Espey and secured his signature.

Practical Women's Club.

In Watertown, Mass., the Woman's club, through its forestry committee, is paying the expenses and managing the business of a flourishing farm garden, where 40 children are cultivating plots of ground varying from 9 feet by 13 to 9 feet by 30, raising not only vegetables, which they can do anything like with, but several of the more popular flowers. The classes meet twice a week for an hour each, and if a pupil is absent a substitute is sent. Another of these school gardens is run by the Homocrofters' Guild, in connection with the social experiment which George H. Maxwell has initiated at Watertown.

That Foolish Book.

He (five years after)—All this gush about love is extremely foolish. Wherever did this stupid book come from? I must say the person who selected it showed a very insipid taste. She (quietly)—It's the book you gave me during our honeymoon, John; we read it 11 times the first week we had it.—Tit-Bits.

Use for Orange Peel.

If when making apple sauce you find you are without a lemon for flavoring use in place, if convenient, the grated peel of a very tart orange, and the apple sauce will be found delicious.

Seasonable
Entertainments and Suggestions for Social Functions

By EDITH A. BROWN

Society Editor of the Chicago Record-Herald.

Entertainment Appropriate for Autumn—The Nation's Floral Emblem and the National Flag for Decoration—Color Scheme a Deep, Rich Yellow—"Syracuse Egg-Nog"—A Guessing Contest of Authors—Novel Game Half a Century Old.

The days have come when the whole country blossoms with the goldenrod. Aside from its beauty, the goldenrod is the nation's floral emblem, and hostesses may combine a love for the beautiful with a bit of patriotism in choosing to do special honor to the flower in entertainment.

For an early fall luncheon the goldenrod will form the prettiest kind of decoration. The whole color scheme, of course, must be in the deep rich yellow which characterizes its own coloring. The decoration of the house depends entirely upon its arrangement, but great masses of the flower should be used, with the flag of the United States here and there to bring out the honor bestowed upon it by the nation. The hostess should be gown in yellow, and her table should be laid in yellow and white. A yellow lining for a sherry table covering would make a pretty foundation decoration.

The flower in itself is too stiff to arrange in any but bouquet form for a centerpiece but wide yellow satin ribbon can be used at the table with good effect. For the place cards have the ordinary white card run through at one corner with a small glided rod on which the name is written or printed. On the card have sentiments concerning the goldenrod like the following:

Still the goldenrod of the roadside clod
Is of all the best
—Clark

Type of all the wealth to let—Goldenrod
—Goodale

I know all the lands are lit
With a autumn blaze of goldenrod
—H. C. Hunt

Because its sun-shaped blossoms show
How soon we receive the light of God,
And unto earth give back that glow—
I thank Him for the goldenrod
—Larson

The bellows are heavy and dark
With the steam of the goldenrods.
—Tay

Welcome dear goldenrod once more
Thou mimic flowering rim
I was a think that summer's store
Hangs from thy laden stem
—Scribner

Gracious, teasing plume of glowing gold,
Waving bravely on the rocky ledge,
Lending seaward lovely to behold,
Leaving to the high cliff a ragged edge
—Celia Thaxter

The walls of the room should be draped with the national flag. For the menu open with halved nutmeg melon. Follow with a clear bouillon, in which carrots are diced. Then may come sweetbreads with egg sauce, creamed chicken with tiny baking powder biscuits, sweet potato croquettes and mashed yellow turnips egg salad with mayonnaise, orange ice with sunshine cake or lady fingers.

With this luncheon, also a new dish called Syracuse egg-nog would serve prettily. This is made by beating the yolks of four eggs with half a pint of sugar until thick. Over this pour two quarts of strong lemonade adding the grated rind of one lemon. Pour into the pitcher from which it is to be served, and pile on the top the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Dust this with nutmeg. The egg-nog is served with shaved ice in thin stemmed glasses, and whether this or the orange ice be used, place on the plate a spray of the goldenrod.

"Author" Guessing Contest.

Although the guessing contest as a means of entertainment has grown into such popularity of late that it seems a recent idea, in reality it is far from new. Some time ago an interested reader sent to me a list of questions for a guessing contest which was found in an old scrap book, and was arranged almost a half century ago. The questions many of them, alluded to the fashions of the period in which they were written, and these have been omitted from the list below, their places having been filled for this occasion with questions which bring them into the possible knowledge of present-day folk. The answers to the questions had been lost, but thought and research have filled in most of these, and the game, with its new additions, is passed on for the benefit of the hostesses of the fall and winter, and particularly for the chairman of the social committees of the various clubs and societies who, I am sure, will greet the old game with joy.

Every question must be answered by the name of an author, and, naturally, from the age of the game, the author must be one who was well-known and popular—alive or dead—50 years ago. Now, it is an easy matter to guess the names of folk prominent in the public eye in one's own time, but for the famed of a half century and more before one's time, the rusted hinges of the brain must be set to working, and even the women of the "literature department" will be kept busy with this game, which is as follows:

1. What a rough man said when he wished his son to eat properly. (Chaucer).
2. Is a lion's house dug in the side of a hill where there is no water. (Dryden).
3. Pilgrims and flatterers have knelt low to kiss him. (Pope).
4. Makes and mends for first-class customers. (Taylor).
5. Represents the dwellings of civilized men. (Holmes).
6. Is worn on the head. (Hare).
7. A name that means such fiery things.

I can't describe their pains and stings. (Burns).

8. Belonging to a monastery. (Abbot).
9. Not one of the four points of the compass, but inclined toward one of them. (Southey).
10. Is what an oyster heap is like to be. (Shelley).

11. Is a chain of hills containing a dark treasure. (Coleridge).
12. Always youthful. (Young).
13. An American manufacturing town. (Lowell).
14. Humpbacked, but not deformed. (Campbell).
15. An internal pain. (Akensted).
16. Value of a word. (Wordsworth).
17. A ten-footer whose name begins with 50. (Longfellow).
18. A worker in precious metals. (Goldsmith).
19. A vital part of the body. (Harte).
20. Small talk and a heavy weight. (Chatterton).
21. Comes from a pig. (Bacon).
22. A domestic worker. (Butler).
23. A slang expression. (Dickens).
24. A young domestic animal. (Lamb).
25. "Mamma is in perfect health, my child."

And thus he named a poet mild (Motherwell).

26. A girl's name and a male relation. (Addison).
27. A disagreeable fellow to have on one's foot. (Bunyon).
28. An official dreaded by the students of English universities. (Proctor).
29. His middle name is suggestive of an Indian or a Hottentot. (Whittier).
30. This, also, might be Thackeray. (This, also, might be Thackeray).
31. A game and a male of the human species. (Tennyson).
32. Meat! What are you doing? (Browning).
33. Very fast indeed. (Swift).
34. To agitate a weapon. (Shakespeare).
35. Put an edible grain 'twixt an ant and a bee.
36. And a much-loved poet you will see. (Bryant).
37. A common domestic animal and what it can never do. (Cowper).
38. Each living head in time 'tissaid, Will turn to him 'though he be dead. (Gray).
39. To precede. (Prior).
40. A coin traction and a weight. (Milton).
41. An elevated woman. (Toplady).
42. A name and a small house. (Alcott).
43. Near and rapid. (Byron).
44. Celebrated in war and literature. (Sheridan).
45. A meeting house and a high place. (Churchill).
46. A worker in barrels. (Cooper).
47. A sly pig. (Cunningham).
48. A boy's name and a boy. (Emerson).
49. A renter. (Tennant).
50. True of the ladies. (Lovelace).
51. Inclined toward royalty. (Kingsley).
52. With my first I a berry disclose My second's the tear of a rose. (Hawthorne).

What Puzzled Him.

The late Alonzo Starkey, of Braintree, Vt., who was sheriff or deputy sheriff of Windham county continuously more than 40 years, had a good story on himself that he enjoyed telling for the benefit of "cock-sure" aspirants for political office. Mr. Starkey was a conscientious official of wide reputation, bubbling over with native wit. After serving a term as sheriff he yielded to the persuasion of his friends and stood for reelection going to the county convention "confident," as he expressed it, "that the thing was as good as settled" in his favor. The nomination went to another man, Mr. Starkey receiving but nine votes. When the convention adjourned over 30 delegates hastened to express to the defeated candidate their surprise and regret that he did not win, and to assure him that they voted for him, whereupon Mr. Starkey facetiously remarked: "Gentlemen, I would like to know how in the devil it was possible for you to deposit over 30 ballots in the box for me, and have only nine of them counted."—Boston Herald.

Personally Ventilated.

There was nothing else in the world which Norah Leahy, competent scrub-woman, feared as much as a thunderstorm. Her accounts of experiences during the summer were always sure to contain a few thrilling incidents connected with heavy showers. "The worst time I ever had was last the Hiram buildin' was Satherday in the summer o' ninety-four," Mrs. Leahy is certain to tell a new listener. "In the middle o' the afternoon, when they'd all gone from the upper floor, an' I was there wid me mop, there came up the fearfulest storm that I ever saw. When it burst, I ran to a coat-closet an' shut me self in, an' I says to me self: 'Whin the thunder dies down, I'll step out, and not be two foot an' you'll believe me, I was two full hours shut in that closet, wid no ventilation but me own breath.'—Youth's Companion.

The Selling of Marmaduke

By FOX RUSSELL.

How brightly the wintry sun shone out as I watched the detrainning of my horse at Mudbury! Hunting in a strange country delights me; new scenes, other faces, everything fresh. I was tired of the old pack—no "go," no dash; above all, no pretty faces there.

So I thought a run down into the Blazington country might brighten me up. In the train I sat opposite a divinity in black—must admit that divinity rather scowled when I tried to open conversation by offering her my paper to read—who thrilled my too susceptible heart to such an extent that—but really, this has nothing to do with my story.

Before I had gone a mile on the road to the meet I was overtaken by Hixon, a man I knew living in the Blazington country.

"Oh, delighted to see you!" he exclaimed. "But how comes it that you've deserted your own pack? Good morning, Miss Clare," he broke off, as a very pretty girl trotted gently past, favoring Hixon with the sweetest of smiles. Hixon is rather an old fool about women. I don't like to see it in him, a man of a certain age; he is at least a year older than I am.

"Who's the lady, Hixon?" I asked in indifferent tones.

"That's Miss Clare, of Broughton; you must take care not to—" But just at that moment the lady pulled up and looked back at Hixon. Really, it was nothing to be concerned about; but he became positively insufferable when he saw the glance I determined there and there to save him from making an ass of himself, if I could, so said:

"Hixon, you must introduce me!" and he had to do it.

"Miss Clare, allow me to introduce my friend, Mr. Marmaduke Amor."

Miss Clare bowed. Oh, what a bow! what grace! what abandon! what—but never mind! I at once attached myself to her, and commenced thinking out some scheme for "shaking" Hixon. Arrived at the meet, he fortunately began talking to a friend, and Miss Clare and I edged away together.

RETURNED HOME WITH A CRUSHED HAT, A MUDDY COAT AND A MIND ILL AT EASE

"Are you quite a stranger here, Mr. Amor?" she said so archly, so—but never mind.

"Quite," I answered, "but I'm not sure that I shall be in future."

I have a way of expressing a great deal with my eye, and I turned it full on to her glorious face as I spoke.

"Now, will you, my dear Miss Clare, take pity on me, and act as my guide, philosopher and friend to-day?"

She replied that she should be delighted. Most fascinating girl this, quite eclipsed divinity in train.

Whilst hounds were drawing the first covert, Hixon, in his usual interfering manner, ranged up alongside, and whispered to me—awfully rude of the man to whisper—

"I say, my boy, take care! The lady knows a thing or two, and—" but I merely nodded distantly, and resumed my tete-a-tete with Miss Clare.

We had been talking for about ten minutes, when some one rode round the covert, and said, rather pointedly:

"I wish you gentlemen would be a little quieter, or we shall never get a fox to break this way."

Now, I don't know how to sneer, but I did my best, and then that idiot Hixon asked me what I was "making faces" for.

Soon after this, we "found" and away streamed the pack out of the wood and across the lower end of our meadow. "Toot, toot!" on the horn, and off we went.

We jumped a two-foot-high rail and across the heavy arable we pounded slowly on my charming companion at my side. Hounds had got well through a fair-sized post and rail, as we began gathering our horses together for the jump. Then Miss Clare turned bewitchingly to me, and exclaimed:

"My horse will be so disappointed, he loves jumping; but I'm really too great a coward to ride at this. Would you mind coming with me to that gate and opening it?"

Would I mind! Ask Lancelot if he would mind riding alone with Guinevere!

The gate was some distance left-handed of the line which hounds were running, and the divergence lost us a great deal of ground; but we rode doggedly on, hoping for a check.

"Poor Marmaduke!" sighed Miss Clare; he is really too bold for a timid man like me. I'm afraid I must sell him and hunt my old cob again. You wouldn't be ashamed of piloting me, even then, would you, Captain—Captain—er—do forgive me, but I've forgotten both your name and regiment."

"Mr.—not captain—and I haven't got a regiment," I replied, inwardly resolving to join the Volunteers forthwith.

"Well, do you know, I was wondering at an officer proving such an entertaining companion, and yet—I suppose it was your military appearance that deceived me."

What a nice, sensible girl this! We went on a little farther, only encountering the easiest fences. Presently she said:

"How strange that my horse should be named Marmaduke—your own name."

I had remarked this. It was strange, because Marmaduke is an uncommon name.

"I suppose you don't know of anyone who wants a really good hunter, do you?" she observed in somewhat downcast tones.

Now, this was a rare good-looking horse. Why should not I—?

"May I ask the price?" I said.

"Well, what I particularly want is a good home for him. You know more about these things than I, Mr. Amor. Would, timidly, "would $750 be too much to ask, do you think?"

"I'll send you a check to-night, and you can let me have him when you like," I answered gallantly. "Shall I make it payable to you?"

"Oh, thanks so much. Make it out to Alicia Clare," with one of her brightest smiles. Then, patting her steed's glossy neck, she murmured:

"Poor Marmaduke, you're sold!" I remembered those words later on.

That evening I dispatched my check to Miss Alicia Clare. Alicia! how I lingered over the writing of that dear name! It seemed so full of pathos, so—never mind.

The following Tuesday I hunted my new purchase for the first time, and, in the course of a short run, he refused every fence but two, at both of which he fell. I couldn't understand it. Miss Clare said that he was a big, bold jumper, and I returned home with a crushed hat, a muddy coat and a mind ill at ease. Next night I met Hixon at the club.

"Hello!" he exclaimed; "what became of you and the pretty horse-breaker that day?"

"What pretty horse-breaker do you refer to?" I asked, stiffly.

"Why, Ally Clare, of course. I tried to warn you about her horse-dealing games, but you were so stand-offish, my dear Marmaduke" (wish he wouldn't "dear Marmaduke" me) "that I couldn't—"

"Then—then—Miss Clare is—"

"Miss Clare is the daughter of old Jake Clare, the horse-dealer. She flirts outrageously with every man she meets and sells her brutes to the biggest fools" (this man is insufferable!).

"The wretch she rode the day you were down—they only gave $100 for him, as he couldn't jump a straw—she had him two days, and then palmed him off upon some silly idiot for $750!" and he roared with laughter in his own underbred vulgar manner till I could have kicked him.

"Poor Marmaduke, you're sold!" The words recurred to me with a distinctness which was positively painful. I have not renewed my acquaintance with Miss Clare.

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

THE SILENCED GRUMBLE.

There was a humble bumble-bee Who grumbled while he hummed; But his grumble soon was humbled By the tune he humbly hummed.

After rumble and much mumble Was his humble grumble humbled, For "I Want You, Mah Honey," Was the tune he humbly hummed.

—Judge.

—THE HUSBAND'S BEAT.

"That she's married!" chimed in a gruff voice just then, as the hubby appeared with a club.

They Had Met.

"When you go to New Zealand, I wish you would inquire after my great-grandfather, Jeremiah Thompson."

"Certainly," said the traveler, and wherever he went he asked for news of the ancestor, but without avail, according to the Dundee Advertiser. One day he was introduced to a fine old Maori of advanced age. "Did you ever meet with an Englishman named Jeremiah Thompson?" he asked. A smile passed over the Maori's face. "Meet him?" he repeated. "Why, I ate him!"

"That she's married!" chimed in a gruff voice just then, as the hubby appeared with a club.

They Had Met.

"When you go to New Zealand, I wish you would inquire after my great-grandfather, Jeremiah Thompson."

"Certainly," said the traveler, and wherever he went he asked for news of the ancestor, but without avail, according to the Dundee Advertiser. One day he was introduced to a fine old Maori of advanced age. "Did you ever meet with an Englishman named Jeremiah Thompson?" he asked. A smile passed over the Maori's face. "Meet him?" he repeated. "Why, I ate him!"

"That she's married!" chimed in a gruff voice just then, as the hubby appeared with a club.

They Had Met.

"When you go to New Zealand, I wish you would inquire after my great-grandfather, Jeremiah Thompson."

"Certainly," said the traveler, and wherever he went he asked for news of the ancestor, but without avail, according to the Dundee Advertiser. One day he was introduced to a fine old Maori of advanced age. "Did you ever meet with an Englishman named Jeremiah Thompson?" he asked. A smile passed over the Maori's face. "Meet him?" he repeated. "Why, I ate him!"

Ada Evening News

OTIS B. WEAVER, PUBLISHER
M. D. STEINER, BUSINESS MGR.

Entered as second-class mail matter March 29, 1904, at the post office at Ada, Indian Territory under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

Advertising rates on application.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Subject to the action of the Democratic county primary election.

For Sheriff
ROBERT NESTER
A. A. (GUS) BOBBITT
L. E. (LEM) MITCHELL
MART WALSH
JAMES D. GAAR
J. D. (ED) FUSSELL

For County Clerk
C. A. (CHARLIE) POWERS
W. S. (SAM) KERR
H. WOODARD

For County Treasurer
J. C. CATES

For County Tax Assessor
C. C. HARGIS
W. H. NETTLES

Subject to the action of the Democratic district primary.

For Delegate to the Constitutional Convention
J. R. LAWRENCE
CARLTON WEAVER

Ed. Harrison is reported quite sick. Rev. Cassidy, wife and children returned from Holdenville this morning. E. Riddle, a banker, of Maud, came in this morning on his way to Holdenville on business.

Mrs. J. M. Taylor and daughter, Susie, returned Sunday from a two weeks' stay at Dallas, Texas.

Miss Ida Hays and brother left this morning for Stoneham, where they will attend school this winter.

J. H. Pryor and two grand-daughters, Beth and Polly Dunston, returned this morning from a visit to Shawnee.

Will trade a good sewing machine for a coat, also an organ for a pony. 20-24 w18-4t Lee Smith.

Reply in suit of C. A. and W. H. M. Farland vs. E. W. Morris, constable is being heard in the mayor's court this afternoon.

Judge J. M. Doss is at his office today after being confined several weeks to his bed by illness. The Judge has lost considerable advantage during his confinement.

Rev. C. F. Roberts, of Wapanucka, has been called to the pastorate of the Old School Presbyterian church, and is expected here about Sept. 20.

Mrs. M. G. Meadows, organizer of the Woodman Circle of Dallas, who came here last week on business, was taken quite sick at the Byrd hotel, but her many friends will be glad to learn that she has recovered and will resume her labors soon.

Do You Need Shoes?

If you want a pair of Shoes that combine style, elegance and individuality with the best leather and excellent workmanship, why not try ours? You will be satisfied with your selection. The latest correct styles for men, women and children.

CHAPMAN
The Shoe Man.

News' Name Election.

Official Ticket

Should the Name of Ada be Changed?
Assuming a Change, What Name do You Prefer?
[Signature]
[Street Address]

LOCAL NEWS

K. C. —Keep clean. 136 tf
The little son of Ed. Hunter is reported sick with fever.

Cupid flour at No. 17. Guaranteed the best. 95-tf

J. H. Dorland was quite sick Sunday, but is some better today.

Cupid flour, best on earth at Walsh's No. 17. 95-tf

Judge Galbraith returned Sunday from Chickasha.

Phone 70 for anything in Heinz goods. 133-tf.

Dr. Nolen was a passenger to Francis today.

Jas. M. Walsh sells for cash only. 133-tf

Dr. King went to Francis on business today.

Heinz sweet or sour pickles 10c doz. 133-tf

E. O. Olds, of Hickory, was in the city today.

We guarantee our Cupid flour. No. 17. 95-tf

Ladies' skirts and jackets cleaned, dyed and pressed at K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

J. E. Biles and family returned today from a visit to Wynnewood, I. T.

Walsh handles the White Swan canned goods. Phone 17. 95-tf

Miss Olney took charge of the books for Freeman & Co. this morning.

See those large and beautiful portraits at Smith's. One given with every dozen of the best photos. 126-tf

M. Scott, of Madill, spent Sunday in Ada.

Try the cash system and see what you save. Phone 70. 133-tf

C. J. Bocher, of Shawnee, is in the city looking after business interests here.

Heinz pure cider vinegar 10c Qt. Phone 70. 133-tf

Miss Mable Hurst resumed her labors in the Nickel store this morning.

My motto, "First-class work or no pay." K. C. 136 tf

Harry Sprague returned Sunday evening from a two weeks' outing at Galveston.

Smoke Cincos Sold at Smoke House. 135 10t

Miss Carra Wilson came in from Francis Sunday to resume her studies in the city schools this year.

Money saved by buying of Jas. M. Walsh, spot cash to all. Phone 70 123tf

W. C. Rollow left Sunday evening for St. Louis to buy a stock of fall and winter goods.

Smoke Cincos Sold at Smoke House. 135 10t

Orville Snead and wife left Saturday evening for Daugherty to visit Mrs. Snead's parents a few days.

Better have that overcoat cleaned at the K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

Dr. and Mrs. Shands returned Sunday from a several weeks' visit in Texas.

A 10x16 portrait given with every dozen of the best photographs — P. K. Smith. 126-tf

Miss Taylor came in from Gainesville, Texas, Sunday, to resume her work in the city schools.

"A Trip to Hawaii and Return" at the Christian church Monday night, Sept. 3 Adults, 25c; children, 15c. 137 4t

Mrs. N. A. Scott left this morning for Farmer, Texas, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Lowe.

R. W. Simpson is in New York buying his fall and winter goods.

Miss Mabel Ray, a niece of Dr. Fouts, came in Saturday evening to spend the winter in Ada and attend the city schools.

Get your cold drinks and confectionaries at Evan's neatly furnished ice cream parlor. 112-tf.

Died—Sunday evening, in North Ada, the little two year old daughter of Jerd Carter and wife of fever. The remains will be taken to Center for burial.

An illustrated lecture on the Hawaiian Islands at the Christian church Monday evening, Sept. 3. 137 4t

Mrs. I. C. Clifton and baby came in Friday evening from Visalia, California, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Keyser.

Don't throw your old clothes away; have them made to look like new by Berry, at K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

J. A. Biles has accepted a position with the Cox-Greer Dry Goods company and assumed the duties of his new position today.

FOR RENT.—Good office rooms on Main street. Little Bros. 104-tf

C. C. Hargis, T. D. McKeown, W. C. Wallace, W. D. Lowden and T. T. Lancaster went to Konawa this afternoon, where they will install a Masoquo lodge tonight.

M. L. Walsh will furnish you with the White Swan brand. Phone 17. 95-tf

Rev. J. W. Mathias, of Durant, was in the city over Sunday and preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Judge Galbraith, who has a valuable collection of Hawaiian views, will give the public an interesting picture and story of life in the tropics on Monday night at the Christian church for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society. 139 2t

Mrs. R. E. Haynes and son is expected to return from Holdenville this evening, where they have been visiting the past week.

Mrs. Walter Bolen left Sunday evening for her home at Francis after a few days' visit with relatives and friends in the city, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Pigg, and children, who are visiting here from California.

J. B. Marsh and family, who have been here prospecting the past week, from Philippien, Ky. were so well pleased with our city and country that they have decided to locate here and have rented a house in North Ada. Mr. Marsh also purchased some lots in the new townsite of Walling.

If you want the White Swan canned goods, phone us. M. L. Walsh. 95-tf

Stereopticon views of the Hawaiian Islands, their people and products, will be shown at the Christian church next Monday evening under the patronage of the Ladies' Aid society of that church. 137 4t

J. B. Stewart and family, one of our prosperous farmers living northwest of Ada, returned Saturday afternoon from a five weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Louisiana.

Mrs. H. W. Bailey, of Sunrise, was dangerously ill Sunday evening, but is reported very much better today.

M. L. Walsh received word this morning that Miss Galliher would not be here to take her place in the store for another week, owing to sickness.

W. S. Akers, of Oklahoma City, visited friends in Ada Sunday.

Mrs. M. J. Logan, of Konawa, passed through Ada on her way home from Mannville, I. T., where she has been visiting for some time.

Dr. Runyan made a business trip to Francis today.

Mrs. D. W. Swaffar and daughter returned today from a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends at Nevada.

Lost—Between postoffice and North Ada, a greenish brown umbrella, crooked handle; return to Miss Nell Moore. 140 It

A. H. Constant and family are expected to return this afternoon from a two weeks' outing at Galveston.

J. Bedford and wife left this morning for Oklahoma City and other Western points.

H. M. Furman went to Holdenville this morning, where he will make a campaign speech tonight, and from there he will go on into Oklahoma, where he has dates for the rest of the week.

R. C. Kensola, wife and baby came in this morning from Madill, where they had been visiting, and left this afternoon for their home at Konawa.

Nellie Parson, of Weatherford, Texas, who has been visiting Mrs. Staggs for some time, went to Ahlosa today, where she will visit with friends a few days.

Notice.

City warrants No. 1479 and 1256 issued to T. J. Chambliss and J. P. McKinley are lost and duplicates issued to cover same and the public is hereby notified not to buy said warrants No. 1479 or 1256 as the city treasurer will not cash same. Jesse Warren, Recorder. 135-5t

Public Schools Begin.

Teachers and children gathered at the school buildings Monday morning and an organization of the classes was begun. As soon as the children were classified and informed what books they would need school was dismissed that they might procure the necessary books and other utensils and be on hand ready for work Tuesday.

New Hotel.

Mrs. S. E. Chapman recently leased the Commercial hotel building and has reopened it as a strictly first class hostelry. The house has been thoroughly renovated from basement to garret, and patrons of the house will find home like treatment at all times. 140 6t

Did a Big Business.

Monday the local booksellers did a land office business. Their patrons lined up ten deep and although extra clerks were employed one was compelled to wait some time before being waited on. However, by night the future congressmen, senators and first ladies of the land were accommodated and all are now ready for the beginning of a hard year's work.

Only a Corporal's Guard.

Sunday afternoon was the time for the regular monthly meeting of W. L. Byrd camp, Confederate Veterans. A number of them punctually assembled at the camp headquarters but neither the commander nor a lieutenant appeared. With strict adherence to the organic law, they could not hold a formal session. So those present contented themselves with holding a pleasant informal meeting, in which reminiscences of the martial past were indulged in.

Frisco Special Train Excursion

to Sulphur Springs, I. T., Sept. 16th, 1906. Rate is $1.00 for the round trip. Train leaves Ada at 10.08 a. m. Returning train leaves Sulphur Springs at 6.30 p. m. I. McNair, Agent, Ada, I. T.

Frisco Low Rates.

Commencing August 26th, we will sell until October 31st, tickets at very low rates to points in California, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, Old Mexico and Texas. Call and get particulars. I. McNair, Agent, Ada, I. T.

REMOVAL NOTICE

I have moved my shop over Freeman's store, and am better prepared than ever to do your work in first class shape. Clothes made to order a specialty. Also do cleaning, repairing, dyeing and rearing clothes. All work called for and delivered.

B. C. BERRY
TAILOR
Over Freeman's Store

'SWEETNING'

Is an attractive word, but here are a few prices on on "sweetening" that will attract the attention of every housewife in Ada.

East Texas Ribbon Cane per gallon.....65c
Louisiana Ribbon Cane, per gallon.....70c
P & F Cero Debarterie, per gallon.....65c
Evangeline, per gallon.....65c
Maple.....$1.25
Home Made Sorghum, per gallon.....60c
Honey Drips (Corn Syrup) per gallon.....40c

Don't forget us when you get hungry.

Jones Bros.

Successors to Jones & Meaders

FURMAN & CROXTON

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW

Will do a general Civil and Criminal Practice. Office in Duncan Building.

C. A. Galbraith Tom D. McKeown
GALBRAITH & McKEOWN
LAWYERS
Over Citizens National Bank
Ada, Ind. Ter.

DR. CORDELIA FOUTZ

OSTEOPATH

Office and Residence at M. M. Sander's home on South Broadway. Phone 245.

ADA, IND. TER.

DR. W. T. NOLEN

—PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON—

Office over Little building, next door to Nolen drug store
Office Phone 91 Res. Phone 11

ADA STEAM LAUNDRY CO.

Is given up to be best. Do Largest Agency Work of any plant in this Territory

Reed & Harrison

Wholesale and Retail Buggies

The Best Makes, the Lowest Prices

Geo. A. Truitt,

Engineer and Land Surveyor

Office Rear Ada National Bank.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Work Entrusted.

I have opened the

Twelfth Street Meat Market

and ask a share of your patronage. Nothing but the best of meats will be carried and your patronage will be given the most careful attention.

C. L. HICKEY.

Eyes Tested and Glasses Fitted
C. J. Warren, Optician

The NICKEL STORE

Where You Save Money on Everything.

School Books

Come here to buy your School Books. Why? Because everything is priced at its lowest net spot cash retail value. Because boy or girl can buy as cheap as man or woman. Because purchasers of School Books will be presented with book satchels as long as they last.

We're off for some more To the Nickel Store, In a very great hurry are we;

For the best sweets in the land Are the Red Band Brand, And we know where to get them you see.

Chocolates, Bon Bons and all of our Nice Fancy Candies, per lb. 12c

Stoneware

Come here for your Stoneware. You will find it here for about half what you generally pay. The usual price is 10c a gallon—buy all you want here at 6c a gallon.

We are selling Stoneware dirt cheap.

Milk Pans or Crocks, 1 gallon, usual price 10c, our price.....6c

Milk Pans or Crocks, 2 gallon, usual price 20c, our price.....12c

Our Stationery Department

This is, has been and will be one of the most successful in the store. We sell pens, ink, mucilage, glue, composition books, ledgers, journals, day books, tablets both for pencil and ink, ruled and unruled, 5c.

We also in this department keep slates, white pencils, school boxes and school supplies.

Nickel Store.

The 5c and 10c store of Ada, I. T.

S. M. Shaw, Prop
New location on Main street third door west of Rollow's corner.

Phone 77.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

Helps Digestion

PURIFIES AND REGULATES

THE BOWELS

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE FOR DISEASED KIDNEYS

Accept no substitute. Insist on having the genuine PRICKLY ASH BITTERS with the large figure 3 in red on the front label

SOLD AT DRUG STORES - PRICE $1.00 BOTTLE

The Idle Sinners.

Every once in awhile the action of some young man who is enjoying a princely income brings to mind the thought that money ill-spent inevitably brings disaster to the spender. The idle rich, whose sole idea is to amuse themselves, are curses in a community. They bring themselves to premature graves, but long before their deaths they are old in sin, and are so satiated with illicit pleasure that they find no enjoyment in anything, and, like Sir Charles Coldstream in the play of "Used Up," there is nothing for them to see with astonishment. Their constant cry is "There is nothing in it," and they try to stimulate their faded appetites with excesses that are suggestive of the declining Pagan days of Greece and Rome. Go to any of our fashionable watering places in the height of the season and you will find many indolent rich men whose faces express sensuality and a vague longing for a new sensation. Their fathers probably toiled hard for the money they are throwing away in trying to enjoy themselves with base amusements. It would have been a mercy if a few years earlier they had been deprived of their princely incomes. They might then have been of some use in the world. Now they are simply incubators. There is no breeder of vice like laziness, and this applies to all classes of young men, the poor as well as the rich, for all the vicious youth are not to be found among the rich, says the Boston Budget. Some of them come from the homes of poverty, and they rely upon poor relations for support when they do not become common thieves. Both the classes mentioned are demoralizing in the examples they set, and if they could be packed off together to some island in the sea, where they would have to work or starve, they might develop into something human and less brutal.

Robbing of a Beggar.

The street beggar with pockets lined with money is a fairly familiar figure of city life, but one of the free dispensaries reports an instance of an attempt to get free medicine, on the plea of poverty, that deserves a place in the catalogue of good stories of "graft," says the New York Post. A middle-aged woman appeared the other day and got a prescription, after which she took her place in the line of persons waiting to have their medicine made up by the apothecary. This particular woman, it should be said, had given satisfactory answers to all the questions put to her, designed to show whether she was a proper subject for charity. Suddenly there was a cry: "I'm robbed! I'm robbed!" The victim was this woman, who so far forgot her previous professions as to assert that her pocket had been picked and that the thief had got away with $90. Then she lost the opportunity to get free medicine, thus adding, in her view, insult to injury.

American Goods in Mexico.

"American merchants could do 50 per cent. more business in Mexico were they to study the character and condition of trade in our country," said Walter E. Grevel, of Mexico City. "The main trouble with the slow sale of American merchandise in Mexico is the fact that the merchants and manufacturers demand that payment for their goods be sent upon the receipt of the bill for the same, and this bill arrives a month in advance of the goods. Of course, our merchants do not favor the idea of paying for goods before receiving them. On the other hand, European merchants are liberal in giving time limits as high as six months, and, as a consequence, enjoy a good portion of our trade."

Aliases of the Great.

Some investigator of curious subjects has discovered that the inventor of traveling incognito was Peter the Great of Russia. The next after the famous Russian sovereign to adopt the practice was Joseph II. of Austria, who in 1777 made a little stay in Paris under the title of Count von Falkenstein. During the revolutionary period Louis XVIII. buried his temporary useless royal dignity under the privacy of Comte de Lille, while Charles X. passed as Comte de Marles. Ex-Empress Eugenie in her splendor frequently took little trips as Comtesse de Pierrefonds. King Leopold does so still as Comte de Ravenstein.

Castro has taken down the presidency, which he slipped off and hung up in the closet some time ago, and finds that it fits as well as ever. There is a rumor to the effect that he did not come back at the call of the asphalt trust, which may yet have a few fits in consequence of his return.

Edison says he will soon place automobiles within the reach of all. Some of us have had to be pretty spry to get out of reach of them.

FRUIT INSTEAD OF DRUGS.

Remedial Qualities May Be Preserved by Home Manufacture.

The remedial properties of berries, all of which are of great value in different diseases, may be preserved through the home manufacture of cordials, shrubs, vinegars, etc., and by drying, in which state they are to be steeped, strained, and the water used as needed. Cherries, gooseberries, plums, peaches and apricots share in this value with the berries. Grapes are second only to figs for use in disorders which arise from a torpid or congested state of the intestines. Health depends so largely upon the regularity of the functions of the bowels that attention to them is of the utmost importance. An excellent fig preparation is an effusion by steeping one ounce of senna in a pint of boiling water; select one pound of plump, dried figs, and, having placed them in a layer in an earthen dish, pour over them the well-steeped and strained senna tea. Place this in a moderate oven and allow them to remain until the fruit has entirely absorbed the liquid. Put this in a closed jar, and for use, one fig eaten on retiring is a dose for any ordinary case of constipation. Pineapple, while of especial worth in some diseases when taken with other food, should never be eaten alone, as, falling anything else to work upon, its acid attacks the lining of the stomach itself. It is claimed that it has an especial value in certain forms of dyspepsia and in diphtheria, as its juices will cut away mucus that nothing else can remove.

All fruits, however, do not affect all persons alike. One should seek to know what is suitable in his own case, and not eat fruits merely because somebody has told him it is "good for him." Owing frequently to idiosyncrasies, as well as to certain physical conditions, fruits are often the worst things one can eat. Each person must be "a law unto himself" in this matter.—The Commoner.

THE BUTTER BILLS.

Two Ways in Which They Can Be Materially Decreased.

A thrifty housewife declares that her butter bills have fallen off one-quarter since she began serving her butter in the form of butterballs. Apart from the economy of the thing, there is no question as to the comparative daintiness and attractiveness of serving butter in one wholesale lump, and in a collection of dainty, symmetrical balls. Abroad, where fresh, unsalted butter is served as a matter of course, it generally comes on the table in a sequence of little dabs or a long, shallow roll. People who have acquired the fresh butter taste find it hard to go back to the salty product of the American creamery, and there is no reason why they should provided there is some one in the family with sufficient leisure to make a little butter, two or three times a week. A quart of double cream will make nearly a pound of butter, and any child with strength enough to use a rotary beater can do the rest.

Witnessed Marriage from Afar.
Getting a man to witness a marriage ceremony at long distance by looking through two windows and across an area between adjacent buildings is a rather novel way of obtaining a witness, but it served the purpose at Portland, Ore., recently of legally and securely tying the matrimonial knot that made Manuel Pires and Grace Sophia Schuster one. The ceremony was performed in the law office of Justice Waldemar Seton, on the third floor of the Commercial building. W. W. Espey, a real estate agent, was at work at his desk across the area and Justice Seton asked him to look across while he made the couple one. The mother of the bride was the other witness. When the knot had been tied Espey noted that the bridegroom failed to kiss the bride. "Hi, there, young man!" he shouted across the area, "you forgot to kiss the bride." "She won't hold still long enough," shouted back the bridegroom. Then Justice Seton brought the marriage certificate around to Espey and secured his signature.

Practical Women's Club.

In Watertown, Mass., the Woman's club, through its forestry committee, is paying the expenses and managing the business of a flourishing farm garden, where 40 children are cultivating plots of ground varying from 9 feet by 13 to 9 feet by 30, raising not only vegetables, which they can do anything they like with, but several of the more popular flowers. The classes meet twice a week for an hour each, and if a pupil is absent a substitute is sent. Another of these school gardens is run by the Homecrofters' Guild, in connection with the social experiment which George H. Maxwell has initiated at Watertown.

That Foolish Book.

He (five years after)—All this gush about love is extremely foolish. Wherever did this stupid book come from? I must say the person who selected it showed a very insipid taste. She (quietly)—It's the book you gave me during our honeymoon, John; we read it 11 times the first week we had it.—Tit-Bits.

Use for Orange Peel.

If when making apple sauce you find you are without a lemon for flavoring use in place, if convenient, the grated peel of a very tart orange, and the apple sauce will be found delicious.

Seasonable Entertainments and Suggestions for Social Functions

By EDITH A. BROWN

Society Editor of the Chicago Record-Herald.

Entertainment Appropriate for Autumn—The Nation's Floral Emblem and the National Flag for Decoration—Color Scheme a Deep, Rich Yellow—"Syracuse Egg-Nog"—A Guessing Contest of Authors—Novel Game Half a Century Old.

The days have come when the whole country blossoms with the goldenrod. Aside from its beauty, the goldenrod is the nation's floral emblem, and hostesses may combine a love for the beautiful with a bit of patriotism in choosing to do special honor to the flower in entertainment.

For an early fall luncheon the goldenrod will form the prettiest kind of a decoration. The whole color scheme, of course, must be in the deep rich yellow which characterizes its own coloring. The decoration of the house depends entirely upon its arrangement, but great masses of the flower should be used, with the flag of the United States here and there to bring out the honor bestowed upon it by the nation. The hostess should be gowning in yellow, and her table should be laid in yellow and white. A yellow lining for a sheer table covering would make a pretty foundation decoration.

The flower in itself is too stiff to arrange in any but bouquet form for a centerpiece, but wide yellow satin ribbon can be used at the table with good effect. For the place cards have the ordinary white card run through at one corner with a small glided rod on which the name is written or printed. On the card have sentiments concerning the goldenrod like the following:

Still the goldenrod of the roadside clod is of all the best.
—Cluck

Type of all the wealth to be—Goldenrod!
—Goodie

I know all the lands are lit
With a goldenrod blaze of goldenrod
—Hunt Jackson

Because its sun-shaped blossoms show
How you receive the light of God,
And unto us give back that glow—
I thank Him for the goldenrod
—Lutcom

The bellows are heavy and dark
With the steam of the goldenrods
—Tux

Welcome dear goldenrod once more
Thou mine flowering friend
I have thought that summer's store
Hung from thy laden stem
—Sudder

Graceful, teasing plume of glowing gold,
Waiting hands on the rocky ledge,
Lining seaward lovely to behold
—Cluck to the high cliff's ragged edge
—Celia Baxter

The walls of the room should be draped with the national flag.
For the menu open with halved nutmeg melon. Follow with a clear bouillon in which carrots are diced. Then may come sweetbread with egg sauce, creamed chicken with tiny baking powder biscuits, sweet potato croquettes and mashed yellow turnips egg salad with mayonnaise, orange ice with sunshine cake or lady fingers.

With this luncheon, also a new dish called Syracuse egg-nog would serve prettily. This is made by beating the yolks of four eggs with half a pint of sugar until thick. Over this pour two quarts of strong lemonade adding the grated rind of one lemon. Pour into the pitcher from which it is to be served, and pile on the top the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Dust this with nutmeg. The egg-nog is served with shaved ice in thin stemmed glasses, and whether this or the orange ice be used, place on the plate a spray of the goldenrod.

"Author" Guessing Contest.

Although the guessing contest as a means of entertainment has grown into such popularity of late that it seems a recent idea, in reality it is far from new. Some time ago an interested reader sent me a list of questions for a guessing contest which was found in an old scrap book, and was arranged almost a half century ago. The questions many of them alluded to the fashions of the period in which they were written and these have been omitted from the list below, their places having been filled for this occasion with questions which bring them into the possible knowledge of present-day folk. The answers to the questions had been lost, but thought and research have filled in most of these and the game, with its new additions, is passed on for the benefit of the hostesses of the fall and winter, and particularly for the chairman of the social committees of the various clubs and societies who, I am sure, will greet the old game with joy.

Every question must be answered by the name of an author, and, naturally, from the age of the game, the author must be one who was well-known and popular—alive or dead—50 years ago. Now, it is an easy matter to guess the names of folk prominent in the public eye in one's own time, but for the famed of a half century and more before one's time, the rusted hinges of the brain must be set to working, and even the women of the "literature department" will be kept busy with this game, which is as follows:

1. What a rough man said when he wished his son to eat properly. (Chaucer).
2. Is a lion's house dug in the side of a hill where there is no water. (Dryden).
3. Pilgrims and flatterers have knelt low to kiss him. (Pope).
4. Makes and mends for first-class customers. (Taylor).
5. Represents the dwellings of civilized men. (Holmes).
6. Is worn on the head. (Hare).
7. A name that means such fiery things.

I can't describe their pains and stings. (Burns).

8. Belonging to a monastery. (Abbot).
9. Not one of the four points of the compass, but inclined toward one of them. (Southey).
10. Is what an oyster heap is like to be. (Shelley).
11. Is a chain of hills containing a dark treasure. (Coleridge).
12. Always youthful. (Young).
13. An American manufacturing town. (Lowell).
14. Humpbacked, but not deformed. (Campbell).
15. An internal pain. (Akerside).
16. Value of a word. (Wordsworth).
17. A ten-footer whose name begins with 50. (Longfellow).
18. A worker in precious metals. (Goldsmith).
19. A vital part of the body. (Harte).
20. Small talk and a heavy weight. (Chatterton).
21. Comes from a pig. (Bacon).
22. A domestic worker. (Butler).
23. A slang expression. (Dickens).
24. A young domestic animal. (Lamb).
25. "Mamma is in perfect health, my child."

And thus he named a poet mild. (Motherwell).

26. A girl's name and a male relation. (Addison).
27. A disagreeable fellow to have on one's foot. (Bunyan).
28. An official dreaded by the students of English universities. (Proctor).
29. His middle name is suggestive of an Indian or a Hottentot. (Whittier).
30. This, also, might be Thackeray.
31. A game and a male of the human species. (Tennyson).
32. Meat! What are you doing? (Blowing).
33. Very fast indeed. (Swift).
34. To agitate a weapon. (Shakespeare).
35. Put an edible grain 'twixt an ant and a bee.
36. A common domestic animal and what it can never do. (Cowper).
37. Each living head in time 'tis said, will turn to him though he be dead. (Gray).
38. To precede. (Prior).
39. A coin traction and a weight. (Milton).
40. An elevated woman. (Toplady).
41. A name and a small house. (Alcott).
42. Near and rapid. (Byron).
43. Celebrated in war and literature. (Sheridan).
44. A meeting house and a high place. (Churchill).
45. A worker in barrels. (Cooper).
46. A sly pig. (Cunningham).
47. A boy's name and a boy. (Emerson).
48. A renter. (Tennant).
49. True of the ladies. (Lovelace).
50. Inclined toward royalty. (Kingsley).
51. With my first I a berry disclose. My second's the tear of a rose. (Hawthorne).

Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.

What Puzzled Him.

The late Alonzo Starkey, of Braintree, Mass., who was sheriff or deputy sheriff of Windham county continuously more than 40 years, had a good story on himself that he enjoyed telling for the benefit of "cock-sure" aspirants for political office. Mr. Starkey was a conscientious official of wide reputation, bubbling over with native wit. After serving a term as sheriff he yielded to the persuasion of his friends and stood for reelection going to the county convention "confident," as he expressed it, "that the thing was as good as settled" in his favor. The nomination went to another man, Mr. Starkey receiving but nine votes. When the convention adjourned over 20 delegates hastened to express to the defeated candidate their surprise and regret that he did not win, and to assure him that they voted for him, whereupon Mr. Starkey facetiously remarked: "Gentlemen, I would like to know how in the devil it was possible for you to deposit over 30 ballots in the box for me, and have only nine of them counted."—Boston Herald.

Personally Ventilated.

There was nothing else in the world which Norah Leahy, competent scrub-woman, feared as much as a thunderstorm. Her accounts of experiences during the summer were always sure to contain a few thrilling incidents connected with heavy showers. "The wurst time I ever I had was in the Hiramul buildin' was Saturday in the summer o' ninety-four," Mrs. Leahy is certain to tell a new listener. "In the middle o' the afternoon, when they'd all gone from the upper floor, an' I was there wid me mop, there came up the fearfullest storm that I ever I saw. When it burst, I ran to a coat-closet an' shut meelf in, an' I says to meelf: 'Whin the thunder dies down, I'll step out, and not be fool.' An' if you'll believe me, I was two full hours shut in that closet, wid no ventilation but me own breath."

Youth's Companion.

How brightly the wintry sun shone out as I watched the detrain of my horse at Mudbury! Hunting in a strange country delights me; new scenes, other faces, everything fresh. I was tired of the old pack—no "go," no dash; above all, no pretty faces there.

So I thought a run down into the Blazington country might brighten me up. In the train I sat opposite a divinity black—must admit that divinity rather scowled when I tried to open conversation by offering her my paper to read—who thrilled my too susceptible heart to such an extent that—but really, this has nothing to do with my story.

Before I had gone a mile on the road to the meet I was overtaken by Hixon, a man I knew living in the Blazington country.

"Oh, delighted to see you!" he exclaimed. "But how comes it that you've deserted your own pack? Good morning, Miss Clare," he broke off, as a very pretty girl trotted gently past, favoring Hixon with the sweetest of smiles. Hixon is rather an old fool about women. I don't like to see it in him, a man of a certain age; he is at least a year older than I am.

"Who's the lady, Hixon?" I asked in indifferent tones.

"That's Miss Clare, of Broughton; you must take care not to—" But just at that moment the lady pulled up and looked back at Hixon. Really, it was nothing to be concerned about, but he became positively insufferable when he saw the glance I determined there and there to save him from making an ass of himself, if I could, so said:

"Hixon, you must introduce me!" and he had to do it.

"Miss Clare, allow me to introduce my friend, Mr. Marmaduke Amor."

Miss Clare bowed. Oh, what a bow! what grace! what abandon! what—but never mind. I at once attached myself to her, and commenced thinking out some scheme for "shaking" Hixon. Arrived at the meet, he fortunately began talking to a friend, and Miss Clare and I edged away together.

"Are you quite a stranger here, Mr. Amor?" she said so archly, so—but never mind.

"Quite," I answered, "but I'm not sure that I shall be in future."

I have a way of expressing a great deal with my eye, and I turned it full on to her glorious face as I spoke.

"Now, will you, my dear Miss Clare, take pity on me, and act as my 'guide, philosopher and friend' to-day?"

She replied that she should be delighted. Most fascinating girl this, quite eclipsed divinity in train.

Whilst hounds were drawing the first covert, Hixon, in his usual interfering manner, ranged up alongside, and whispered to me—awfully rude of the man to whisper—

"I say, my boy, take care! The lady knows a thing or two, and—" but I merely nodded distantly, and resumed my tete-a-tete with Miss Clare.

We had been talking for about ten minutes, when some one rode round the covert, and said, rather pointedly: "I wish you gentlemen would be a little quieter, or we shall never get a fox to break this way."

Now, I don't know how to sneer, but I did my best, and then that idiot Hixon asked me what I was "making faces" for.

Soon after this, we "found" and away streamed the pack out of the wood and across the lower end of our meadow. "Toot, toot!" on the horn, and off we went.

We jumped a two-foot-high rail and across the heavy arable we pounded slowly on, my charming companion at my side. Hounds had got well through a fair-sized post and rail, as we began gathering our horses to tether for the jump. Then Miss Clare turned bewitchingly to me, and exclaimed:

"My horse will be so disappointed, he loves jumping; but I'm really too great a coward to ride at this. Would you mind coming with me to that gate and opening it?"

Would I mind? Ask Lancelot if he would mind riding alone with Guinness!

The gate was some distance left-handed of the line which hounds were running, and the divergence lost us a great deal of ground; but we rode doggedly on, hoping for a check.

"Poor Marmaduke!" sighed Miss Clare; he is really too bold for a timid

The Selling of Marmaduke

By FOX RUSSELL.

How brightly the wintry sun shone out as I watched the detrain of my horse at Mudbury! Hunting in a strange country delights me; new scenes, other faces, everything fresh. I was tired of the old pack—no "go," no dash; above all, no pretty faces there.

So I thought a run down into the Blazington country might brighten me up. In the train I sat opposite a divinity black—must admit that divinity rather scowled when I tried to open conversation by offering her my paper to read—who thrilled my too susceptible heart to such an extent that—but really, this has nothing to do with my story.

Before I had gone a mile on the road to the meet I was overtaken by Hixon, a man I knew living in the Blazington country.

"Oh, delighted to see you!" he exclaimed. "But how comes it that you've deserted your own pack? Good morning, Miss Clare," he broke off, as a very pretty girl trotted gently past, favoring Hixon with the sweetest of smiles. Hixon is rather an old fool about women. I don't like to see it in him, a man of a certain age; he is at least a year older than I am.

"Who's the lady, Hixon?" I asked in indifferent tones.

"That's Miss Clare, of Broughton; you must take care not to—" But just at that moment the lady pulled up and looked back at Hixon. Really, it was nothing to be concerned about, but he became positively insufferable when he saw the glance I determined there and there to save him from making an ass of himself, if I could, so said:

"Hixon, you must introduce me!" and he had to do it.

"Miss Clare, allow me to introduce my friend, Mr. Marmaduke Amor."

Miss Clare bowed. Oh, what a bow! what grace! what abandon! what—but never mind. I at once attached myself to her, and commenced thinking out some scheme for "shaking" Hixon. Arrived at the meet, he fortunately began talking to a friend, and Miss Clare and I edged away together.

"Are you quite a stranger here, Mr. Amor?" she said so archly, so—but never mind.

"Quite," I answered, "but I'm not sure that I shall be in future."

I have a way of expressing a great deal with my eye, and I turned it full on to her glorious face as I spoke.

"Now, will you, my dear Miss Clare, take pity on me, and act as my 'guide, philosopher and friend' to-day?"

She replied that she should be delighted. Most fascinating girl this, quite eclipsed divinity in train.

Whilst hounds were drawing the first covert, Hixon, in his usual interfering manner, ranged up alongside, and whispered to me—awfully rude of the man to whisper—

"I say, my boy, take care! The lady knows a thing or two, and—" but I merely nodded distantly, and resumed my tete-a-tete with Miss Clare.

We had been talking for about ten minutes, when some one rode round the covert, and said, rather pointedly: "I wish you gentlemen would be a little quieter, or we shall never get a fox to break this way."

Now, I don't know how to sneer, but I did my best, and then that idiot Hixon asked me what I was "making faces" for.

Soon after this, we "found" and away streamed the pack out of the wood and across the lower end of our meadow. "Toot, toot!" on the horn, and off we went.

We jumped a two-foot-high rail and across the heavy arable we pounded slowly on, my charming companion at my side. Hounds had got well through a fair-sized post and rail, as we began gathering our horses to tether for the jump. Then Miss Clare turned bewitchingly to me, and exclaimed:

"My horse will be so disappointed, he loves jumping; but I'm really too great a coward to ride at this. Would you mind coming with me to that gate and opening it?"

Would I mind? Ask Lancelot if he would mind riding alone with Guinness!

The gate was some distance left-handed of the line which hounds were running, and the divergence lost us a great deal of ground; but we rode doggedly on, hoping for a check.

"Poor Marmaduke!" sighed Miss Clare; he is really too bold for a timid rider like me. I'm afraid I must sell him and hunt my old cob again. You wouldn't be ashamed of piloting me, even then, would you, Captain—Captain—er—do forgive me, but I've forgotten both your name and regiment."

"Mr.—not captain—and I haven't got a regiment," I replied, inwardly resolving to join the Volunteers forthwith.

"Well, do you know, I was wondering at an officer proving such an entertaining companion, and yet—I suppose it was your military appearance that deceived me."

What a nice, sensible girl this! We went on a little farther, only encountering the easiest fences. Presently she said:

"How strange that my horse should be named Marmaduke—your own name."

I had remarked this. It was strange, because Marmaduke is an uncommon name.

"I suppose you don't know of anyone who wants a really good hunter, do you?" she observed in somewhat doze-tones.

Now, this was a rare good-looking horse. Why should not I—?

"May I ask the price?" I said.

"Well, what I particularly want is a good horse for him. You know more about these things than I, Mr. Amor. Would, (timidly, "would $750 be too much to ask, do you think?"

"I'll send you a check to-night, and you can let me have him when you like," I answered gallantly. "Shall I make it payable to you?"

"Oh, thanks so much. Make it out to Alicia Clare," with one of her brightest smiles. Then, patting her steed's glossy neck, she murmured:

"Poor Marmaduke, you're sold!" I remembered those words later on.

That evening I dispatched my check to Miss Alicia Clare. Alicia! how I lingered over the writing of that dear name! It seemed so full of pathos, so—never mind.

The following Tuesday I hunted my new purchase for the first time, and, in the course of a short run, he refused every fence but two, at both of which he fell. I couldn't understand it. Miss Clare said that he was a big, bold jumper, and I returned home with a crushed hat, a muddy coat and a mind ill at ease. Next night I met Hixon at the club.

"Hello!" he exclaimed; "what became of you and the pretty horse-breaker that day?"

"What pretty horse-breaker do you refer to?" I asked, stiffly.

"Why, Ally Clare, of course. I tried to warn you about her horse-dealing games, but you were so stand-offish, my dear Marmaduke" (wish he wouldn't "dear Marmaduke" me) "that I couldn't—"

"Then—then—Miss Clare is—?"

"Miss Clare is the daughter of old Jake Clare, the horse-dealer. She flirts outrageously with every man she meets and sells her brutes to the biggest fools" (this man is insufferable!).

"The wretch she rode the day you were down—they only gave $100 for him, as he couldn't jump a straw—she had him two days, and then palmed him off upon some silly idiot for $750!" and he roared with laughter in his own underbred vulgar manner till I could have kicked him.

"Poor Marmaduke, you're sold!" The words recurred to me with a distinctness which was positively painful. I have not renewed my acquaintance with Miss Clare.

(Copyright, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

THE SILENCED GRUMBLE.

There was a humble bumble-bee
Who grumbled while he buzzed;
But his grumble soon was humbled
By the tune he humbly hummed.

After rumble and much mumble
Was his humble grumble dumbled,
For "I Want You, Mah Honey,"
Was the tune he humbly hummed.

—Judge.

—THE HUSBAND'S BEAT.

"That she's married!" chimed in a gruff voice just then, as the hubby appeared with a club.

They Had Met.

"When you go to New Zealand, I wish you would inquire after my great-grandfather, Jeremiah

Bargaining With a Navajo

Major Chauncey B. Barker, who was the transport quartermaster who conducted the recent cruise of the Sumner to Cuban ports with the Santiago battlefields commission, has spent much time among the western Indians and has a fine collection of blankets, which have attracted much attention since he has been stationed at Washington. Many of the blankets were secured from Indians whose names have a place in the history of the army.

"One of the finest saddle blankets in my collection," said Major Barker to a New York Tribune reporter the other day, "is a saddle blanket which once adorned the war pony of Black Horse, a Navajo chief who never became very friendly with the whites. I was out in Arizona holding a powwow with a bunch of drifters whom the government wanted corralled on a reservation when I met Black Horse. He would not come within the circle or smoke the pipe of peace, but hung around on the outside, sullen, undisciplined and unapproachable.

"One afternoon I saw his saddle blanket—one of the most beautiful I had ever seen—and a great desire to possess it overcame me. Through our interpreter I sent him an offer of $25, to which he would not even reply. I raised the offer to $50, but the answer was only a grunt. Finally he informed the interpreter that the white captain did not have enough money to buy his blanket.

"Knowing something of the Indian character I thought out a way of getting the blanket and at the same time winning the friendship of the chief which was important in the official matter we had on hand. I sent word to Black Horse that the white captain at last realized his great worth and importance, felt that he was the greatest of all great Indians, and that he was more than worthy of being my guest at a feast which I wished to prepare for him. I told him that he might bring a friend if he knew one who was worthy enough, or that he could come alone if it suited his dignity better. I asked him when he would accept such an invitation.

The vanity of the old chief was tickled. He said he would come the next night, which would give him time to work up an appetite that would do justice to the white captain's dinner.

I prepared a feast which I knew he would like. There was a stew of potatoes and beans and onions and meat. All Indians like a stew better than anything else, and they detest individual dishes. I found in the stores several cans of apples and had them opened up. Then I brewed a punch, flavoring it with the apple juice. This was poured out in great tin cups holding fully a pint. Before we began I intimated to Black Horse that at the white captain's table he should sip the punch no faster than did the white captain.

"The dinner progressed famously. All the while Black Horse kept his eye on me and never missed an opportunity to sip from the tin cup when I did. He sipped a little harder, and presently his cup was empty. I reached over and poured into his cup more than half of the punch which remained in mine. An Indian can understand your giving him half of anything you have, but the man who will give you more than half is generous beyond belief.

"At last the moment came for a final play for the blanket. I arose and made a speech. Finally I took off the uniform blouse, which was about as disreputable a looking one as an officer ever wore. I had worn it three months in the brush, and it certainly showed it. This blouse, I explained to him, was made for the father of the white captain's father many, many years ago. It was old, and it was near to the white captain's heart. But so was Black Horse, and the blouse was to be his.

"He took it with more eagerness than an Indian usually shows about anything, and then he made his speech. He spoke principally about himself and made himself out a very great man. Then he muttered something and left the tent for a moment. When he returned he had the saddle blanket, which with a fine bow he cast at my feet."

Operation on a Hen.

One of the favorite hens becoming ill Samuel Sapton and R. E. Fountain, chicken fanciers, performed an operation, which has evidently proved very successful, as it saved the chicken's life.

It was discovered that the fowl was suffering from "craw irritation," caused by eating small pieces of glass. The craw was opened, thoroughly washed out, sewed up with white cotton and now the hen is as lively as a young chicken.—Ridgely (Md.) Correspondence Philadelphia Record.

Chloroform Affects Plants.

Some plants are affected by chloroform, just as animals are. Sensitive plants, which shrink from the human touch in ordinary circumstances, lose their irritability in air charged with chloroform vapor.

The Bill.

Knecker—Summer expenses are heavy. Bocker—Yes, I have to pay all my wife's, all my own and an extra chunk to keep her from knowing mine.—N. Y. Sun.

BROKEN DOWN, LIKE MANY ANOTHER WOMAN, WITH EXHAUSTING KIDNEY TROUBLES.

Mrs. A. Taylor, of Wharton, N. J., says: "I had kidney trouble in its most painful and severe form, and the torture I went through now seems to have been almost unbearable. I had back-ache, pains in the side and loins, dizzy spells and hot, feverish headaches. There were bearing-down pains, and the kidney secretions passed too frequently, and with a burning sensation. They showed sediment. I became discouraged, weak, languid and depressed, so sick and weak that I could not keep up. As doctors did not cure me I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and with such success that my troubles were all gone after using eight boxes, and my strength, ambition and general health is fine."

Sold by all dealers 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A man never realizes the goodness of his neighbors until he is sick.

PUTNAM PAPERLESS DYES color more goods, brighter colors, with less work than others.

When a man combines business with pleasure business usually gets the short end of it.

Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c cigar mile of rich mellow tobacco. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

After a man has tackled three or four enterprises and failed to succeed in any of them he usually sets himself up as a pessimist.

Ian MacLaren's Successor.

The Rev. Alexander Connell, who succeeds to Ian MacLaren's pulpit at Seton Park, Liverpool, has been pastor of Regent Square Presbyterian church London, since 1893. He was born in the Scotch Highlands just 40 years ago.

A Twenty-Year Old Fact.

Do you want to stop those chills, get well, fat and happy? We think you do. It so use Cheatham's Chills Tonic. It is not an experiment, but a twenty-year old fact. For that number of years it has cured all kinds of chills and still does so. It is guaranteed.

His Interest Was Personal.

An eccentric member of the British parliament who died recently endeavored vainly during a quarter of a century to get passed into law a bill for preventing persons from standing outside windows while cleaning them. During his last session the old fellow complained to a colleague that his object in introducing the bill had been quite misunderstood by the house for these 25 years. "I introduced the bill," said he, "not for the sake of the window cleaners, but for the sake of the people below, on whom they might fall. The idea of the bill was suggested to me by the fear that a window cleaner might fall on myself."

Butler's Stolen Fe.

The late Hon. Joseph Q. Hoyt, formerly of Boston, when a lad attended a circus and his silver watch was stolen. The supposed thief was arrested, and was defended by Benjamin F. Butler, who proved he did not take the watch, and never was at the circus.

During the civil war Hoyt was introduced to Butler at a dinner at the Astor house in New York, and the latter remarked "This is the first time I have had the pleasure of meeting you."

"Oh, no," said Hoyt, who then related the circus incident. "Was that you, Hoyt?" asked Butler, and, being answered in the affirmative, Butler laughed and said "That was an awful good watch, Hoyt. That is all I got for defending the thief."

SALLOW FACES

Often Caused by Coffee Drinking.

How many persons realize that coffee so disturbs digestion that it produces a muddy, yellow complexion?

A ten days' trial of Postum Food Coffee has proven a means, in thousands of cases, of clearing up bad complexions.

A Wash. young lady tells her experience.

"All of us—father, mother, sister and brother—had used tea and coffee for many years until finally we all had stomach troubles more or less.

"We were all sallow and troubled with pimples, breath bad, disagreeable taste in the mouth, and all of us simply so many bundles of nerves.

"We didn't realize that coffee was the cause of the trouble until one day we ran out of coffee and went to borrow some from a neighbor. She gave us some Postum and told us to try that.

"Although we started to make it, we all felt sure we would be sick if we missed our strong coffee, but we were forced to try Postum and were surprised to find it delicious.

"We read the statements on the pkg., got more and in a month and a half you wouldn't have known us. We were all able to digest our food without any trouble, each one's skin became clear, tongues cleaned off and nerves in fine condition. We never use anything now but Postum. There is nothing like it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a reason."

POPE'S STRONG COMMON SENSE.

Pontiff Refused to Be Made an Invalid by a Pen Prick.

The following story is told of Pius X. by the Rome correspondent of the London Pall Mall Gazette:

The other day he was writing at his desk, when his pen began to splutter. He decided to change it, but it stuck, and it was only after a strong pull that it came out, promptly pricking him under his nail, for which probably he would have followed the natural impulse to put it in his mouth, and we would have heard nothing more of the incident had there not been an ink-stain also. His exclamation brought his secretary, who washed away the blood with disinfectants, to obviate microbes, and bound it up, at the same time suggesting a doctor's visit. "No, no," said the pontiff laughing. "It would be known to the press at once, I should be killed and buried by them before he could arrive!" Those surrounding him would have liked to make the slight mishap an excuse for stopping the audiences, but Pius X. was somewhat annoyed at the suggestion, saying, "Enough, enough! What is a pen-prick! You make me ridiculous. I have not ceased to be a man and become a baby!" So he was present at the ceremony in commemoration of his predecessor, making jokes about his bandaged finger.

Good Colors for Houses.

It is not generally known—not even among painters—why certain tints and colors wear much better than others on houses, and the knowledge of just what tints are best to use is, therefore, rather rare.

One writer on paints, in a recent book, says that experiments seem to show that those colors which resist or turn back the heat rays of the sun, will protect a house better than those which allow these rays to pass through the film.

Thus red is a good color because it turns back, or reflects the red rays, and the red rays are the hot rays. In general, therefore, the warm tones are good and the cold tones are poor, so far as wear is concerned. In choosing the color of paint for your house, select reds, browns, grays and olives, which, considering the various tones these tints will produce will give a wide range from which to choose.

Avoid the harsh tints, such as cold yellows (like lemon), cold greens (like grass green, etc.) and the blues. It must be understood that no virtue is claimed for tints in themselves, irrespective of the materials used in the paint. Any color will fade, and the paint will scale off if adulterated white lead or canned paint is used, but if one is careful to use the best white lead—some well-known brand of a reliable manufacturer—and genuine linseed oil, the warm tints mentioned above will outwear the same material tinted with the cold colors.

Another Dig at Powers.

A few days ago Gov. Cobb, of Maine, and Hon. W. R. Pattangall, prominent in politics in the same state, were together on a train. Mr. Pattangall is a lawyer and an editor, the writer of the humorous "Meddy-bumps Letters" appearing in his paper, the Machias Union.

In the course of conversation, Gov. Cobb remarked to Mr. Pattangall, "I don't see why you and Lowell Powers should be so extremely antagonistic to each other. Neither of you ever fails to give the other a rap when there is opportunity."

At this point an interested listener in the car leaned toward their chairs and asked: "Is it really true that ex-Gov. Powers is of Indian descent?" "Well, the Indians deny it," Mr. Pattangall answered, in his inimitable manner.

Considered the Proprieties.

A man in Dallas county tried to shuffle off this mortal coil by hanging himself with a blind bridle. His wife found him suspended from a rafter in the barn. He was wroth at her interposition, saying: "If you had let me alone a few minutes more I would have been in heaven." His wife replied: "Yes, and you would have looked nice running around over heaven with a blind bridle on, wouldn't you?"—Thockmorton (Tex.) Times.

Saved Him.

"It didn't kill me, but I think it would if it had not been for Hunt's Cure. I was tired, miserable and well-nigh used up when I commenced using it for an old and severe case of Eczema. One application relieved and one box cured me. "I believe Hunt's Cure will cure any form of itching known to mankind." Clifton Lawrence, Helena, O. T.

Poison in Yolk of Eggs.

M. G. Lohel has arrived at the somewhat startling conclusion that the yolk of the eggs of fowls and ducks, as well as those of the tortoise, contains poisonous substances. When isolated and injected into the veins of rabbits or other animals these promptly cause death. The phenomena produced are those of acute intoxication of the central nervous system.

In a Pinch, Use ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE.

A powder. It cures painful, smarting, nervous feet and ingrowing nails. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Makes new shoes easy. A certain cure for sweating feet. 30,000 testimonials of cures. Sold by all druggists, 25c. Trial package, FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

If a woman believes her husband is bad, the chances are he will make good.

Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c. Many smokers prefer them to 10 cigars. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

The school of experience is open 24 hours each day.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c. per bottle. One size only.

Genuine—Syrup of Figs

IF YOU WANT A CHILL TONIC

Guaranteed NOT to Contain a Particle of POISON and that WILL CURE CHILLS AND FEVERS

OXIDINE

For Sale by All Druggists

Price 50 Cents

Read the following analysis made by the state chemist who analyzed three bottles of Oxidine sent to him by the Secretary of the State Pharmaceutical Association (The Texas Retail Druggists Association):

Houston Laboratories
Chemical and Biological
Analysis and Valuation of Cotton Seed and Rice Products a Specialty.
Waters, Solids, Oils, Grease, Etc., Carefully Examined and Reported Upon. Reports Made on Economic Geology.

Houston Laboratories
Chemical and Biological
Analysis and Valuation of Cotton Seed and Rice Products a Specialty.
Waters, Solids, Oils, Grease, Etc., Carefully Examined and Reported Upon. Reports Made on Economic Geology.

P. S. TILSON, Director, Analytical and Consulting Chemist
215 1-4 MAIN STREET

P. S. TILSON, Director, Analytical and Consulting Chemist
215 1-4 MAIN STREET

HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 27, 1906.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, June 27, 1906.

Mr. R. H. Walker, Secretary Texas State Pharmaceutical Association, Dallas, Texas: Dear Sir: Herewith I beg to hand you certificate of analysis of the Oxidine you submitted a few days since.

Mr. R. H. Walker, Secretary Texas State Pharmaceutical Association, Dallas, Texas: Dear Sir: Herewith I beg to hand you certificate of analysis of the Oxidine you submitted a few days since.

I trust this will be duly received and found entirely satisfactory. I have kept you waiting for a little while, but I appreciate the responsibility which you have seen fit to place upon me for that reason I have taken my time to be certain and accurate about my results.

I trust this will be duly received and found entirely satisfactory. I have kept you waiting for a little while, but I appreciate the responsibility which you have seen fit to place upon me for that reason I have taken my time to be certain and accurate about my results.

If I can serve you in the future please advise me. Thanking you, I beg to remain,

If I can serve you in the future please advise me. Thanking you, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

Yours very truly,

P. S. TILSON, Chemist.

P. S. TILSON, Chemist.

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY DALLAS, TEXAS—PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG COMPANY, Manufacturing Druggists—Memphis, Tenn.

Paid in Capital and Surplus, $250,000.00

H. D. ADAMS, President M. H. TURNER, Vice-President B. H. COMPTON, 2nd Vice-President B. O. ADAMS, Secretary and Treas.

ROYAL A. FERRIS, Pres. American Exchange Nat'l Bank, Dallas, Texas. GEO. H. ALBRECHT, Director American Exchange Nat'l Bank, Dallas, Texas. ALICE SANGER, Pres. Superior Bank, Dallas, Texas. H. H. ADAMS, President

H. H. STEWART, Pres. Mercantile Bank, Dallas, Texas. FRED B. TURNER, Dallas, Texas. J. S. KUTNER, Dallas, Texas. M. H. TURNER, Vice-President B. H. COMPTON, 2nd Vice-President

S. J. JAMES, Dallas, Texas. J. H. H. JAMES, Dallas, Texas. J. S. KUTNER, Dallas, Texas. M. H. TURNER, Vice-President B. H. COMPTON, 2nd Vice-President

OXIDINE, THE CHILL CURE THAT CURES CHILLS

Large as Prehistoric Monsters.

Some of the largest and most important animals are bigger now than they were in the prehistoric times. That is true of the whale and emphatically so of the horse. The best authorities hold that in bulk and weight the largest whales now in existence are larger than any of the long-named monsters that abounded in the early ages of the earth.

Try It Once.

There is more actual misery and less real danger in a case of itching skin disease than any other ailment. Hunt's Cure is manufactured especially for these cases. It relieves instantly and cures promptly. Absolutely guaranteed.

Gen. Mercier in England.

Gen. Mercier, who has fled from Paris to England, where he hasn't been enthusiastically received, once delivered in the French senate an elaborate speech on the feasibility of invading England.

Missionary Work in Africa.

All missionary societies at work in Africa have now in round numbers 1,000 principal mission stations, with about 5,000 sub-stations.

A woman's idea of economy is to use a gas range for the purpose of cutting down the coal bill.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

True friends seldom come in bunches.

PILES NO MONEY TILL CURED.

SEND FOR FREE LITERATURE ON PILES. (Circulate, White House or Postmaster's Office.) DR. THORNTON & MINOR, 107 OAK ST. KANSAS CITY, MO. (Branch Office at St. Louis.)

Libby's Food Products

enable you to enjoy your meals without having to spend half your time between them over a hot cook-stove.

All the cooking is done in Libby's kitchen—a kitchen as clean and neat as your own, and there's nothing for you to do but enjoy the result.

Libby's Products are selected meats, cooked by cooks who know how, and only the good parts packed.

For a quick and delicious lunch any time, in door or out, try Libby's Malted Pastry—Libby's Camp Sauce.

Booklet Free, "How to Make Good Food from Libby's."

Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago

60 Bus. Winter Wheat Per Acre

That's the yield of Salmer's Red Cross Hybrid Winter Wheat. Send for free sample of same as also catalogue of Winter Wheat, Rye, Barley, Clover, Timothy, Grasses, Etc., for full planting instructions. SALMER SEED CO., Box 27, La Crosse, Wis.

DEFIANCE Cold Water Starch

makes laundry work a pleasure. 16 oz. pkg. 10c.

Buchan's CRESYLIC Ointment

is a positive necessity to every cattleman, will quickly heal wounds and sores on all animals, won't irritate and is sold in 10c and 25c bottles. 40 years has been the standard remedy for SCREW WORMS AND FOOT ROT.

Put up in 4 oz. bottles and 4 oz. 1 lb. 5 lb. 10 lb. and 25 lb. sizes. One trial will convince you of its value. Write for literature. Sold by druggists and grocers or write CARROLL SOAP CO., NEW YORK CITY.

DO YOU WANT A JOB? Structural steeling and railroad yards and wharves of San Francisco. The banks are over-loaded with the money of the people anxious to put it into buildings. The commonest kind of labor commands from $2.75 to $3.50 a day. Partners get from $5 to $8 a day. Joiners and plasterers from $6 to $8 a day. If you want the facts direct a letter to the BUREAU OF EMPLOYMENT, 1115 California Street, San Francisco, and get full particulars.

Wanted for U. S. Army Able-bodied unmarried men, between ages of 21 and 35, citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can read, write and speak English. For information apply to Recruiting Station, Post Office Bldg., Oklahoma City, Okla. Shawnee, O. T. or S. O. McLaughlin and Muskogee, Okla.

DEFIANCE STARCH

is chosen as the standard for all starches only 12 cents a package price and "DEFIANCE" IS SUPERIOR QUALITY.

If afflicted with eye trouble, use Thompson's Eye Water

SALESMEN WANTED.

We want a live, active and thoroughly experienced salesman in this locality with sufficient money to buy outright his first month's territory. Write George H. Adams, 1115 California Street, San Francisco, for full particulars. Such a man will give exclusive sales rights and guarantee to return money if not successful. The Standard Oil Co., 600 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

PORTRAITS FROM FRAMES

30 days credit to all agents. Catalogues and samples free. N. H. FRIEDMAN & CO., Box 18, Maryland Heights, Mo. W. N. U., Oklahoma City, No. 34, 1906.

Plantation Chill Cure is Guaranteed

To Cure, or Money Refunded by Your Merchant. So. Why Not Try It? Price, 50c. Retail.

Ada Evening News

OTIS B. WEAVER, PUBLISHER
M. D. STEINER, BUSINESS MGR.

Entered as second-class mail matter March 26, 1904, at the post office at Ada, Indian Territory under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

Advertising rates on application.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Subject to the action of the Democratic county primary election.

For Sheriff
ROBERT NESTER
A. A. (GUS) BOBBITT
L. E. (LEM) MITCHELL
MART WALSH
JAMES D. GAAR
J. D. (ED) FUSSELL

For County Clerk
C. A. (CHARLIE) POWERS
W. S. (SAM) KERR
H. WOODARD

For County Treasurer
J. C. CATES

For County Tax Assessor
C. C. HARGIS
W. H. NETTLES

Subject to the action of the Democratic district primary.

For Delegate to the Constitutional Convention

J. R. LAWRENCE
CARLTON WEAVER

Ed. Harrison is reported quite sick. Rev. Cassidy, wife and children returned from Holdenville this morning.

E. Riddle, a banker, of Maud, came in this morning on his way to Holdenville on business.

Mrs. J. M. Taylor and daughter, Susie, returned Sunday from a two weeks' stay at Dallas, Texas.

Miss Ida Hays and brother left this morning for Stonewall, where they will attend school this winter.

J. H. Pryor and two granddaughters, Beth and Polly Dunston, returned this morning from a visit to Shawnee.

Will trade a good sewing machine for a short, also an organ for a pony. 20-24t w18-4t Lee Smith.

replevin suit of C. A. and W. H. M. Farland vs. E. W. Morris, constable is being heard in the mayor's court this afternoon.

Judge J. M. Doss is at his office today after being confined several weeks to his bed by illness. The Judge has lost considerable advantage during his confinement.

Rev. C. F. Robertson, of Wapanucka, has been called to the pastorate of the Old School Presbyterian church, and is expected here about Sept. 20.

Mrs. M. G. Meadows, organizer of the Woodman Circle of Dallas, who came here last week on business, was taken quite sick at the Byrd hotel, but her many friends will be glad to learn that she has recovered and will resume her labors soon.

Do You Need Shoes?

If you want a pair of Shoes that combine style, elegance and individuality with the best leather and excellent workman-ship, why not try ours? You will be satisfied with your selection. The latest correct styles for men, women and children.

CHAPMAN
The Shoe Man.

News' Name Election.

Official Ticket

Should the Name of Ada be Changed?

Assuming a Change, What Name do You Prefer?

[Signature].....

[Street Address].....

LOCAL NEWS

K. C. Keep clean. 136 tf

The little son of Ed. Hunter is reported sick with fever.

Cupid flour at No. 17. Guaranteed the best. 95-tf

J. H. Dorland was quite sick Sunday, but is some better today.

Cupid flour, best on earth at Walsh's No. 17. 95-tf

Judge Galbraith returned Sunday from Chickasha.

Phone 70 for anything in Heinz goods. 133-tf

Dr. Nolen was a passenger to Francis today.

Jas. M. Walsh sells for cash only. 133-tf

Dr. King went to Francis on business today.

Heinz sweet or sour pickles 10c doz. Phone 70. 133-tf

E. O. Olds, of Hickory, was in the city today.

We guarantee our Cupid flour. No 17. Walsh. 95-tf

Ladies' skirts and jackets cleaned, dyed and pressed at K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

J. E. Biles and family returned today from a visit to Wynnewood, I. T.

Walsh handles the White Swan canned goods. Phone 17. 95-tf

Miss Olney took charge of the books for Freeman & Co. this morning

See those large and beautiful portraits at Smith's. One given with every dozen of the best photos. 126-tf

M. Scott, of Madill, spent Sunday in Ada

Try the cash system and see what you save. Phone 70. 133-tf

C. J. Bocher, of Shawnee, is in the city looking after business interests here

Heinz pure cider vinegar 10c Qt. Phone 70. 133-tf

Miss Mable Hurt resumed her labors in the Nickel store this morning.

My motto, "First-class work or no pay." K. C. 136 tf

Harry Sprague returned Sunday evening from a two weeks' outing at Galveston

Smoke Cinco Sold at Smoke House. 135 10t

Miss Carra Wilson came in from Francis Sunday to resume her studies in the city schools this year

Money saved by buying of Jas. M. Walsh, spot cash to all. Phone 70 129tf

W. C. Rollow left Sunday evening for St. Louis to buy a stock of fall and winter goods.

Smoke Cinco Sold at Smoke House. 135 10t

Orville Snead and wife left Saturday evening for Daugherty to visit Mrs. Snead's parents a few days

Better have that overcoat cleaned at the K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

Dr. and Mrs. Shands returned Sunday from a several weeks' visit in Texas

A 10x16 portrait given with every dozen of the best photographs -P. K. Smith. 126-tf

Miss Taylor came in from Gainesville, Texas, Sunday, to resume her work in the city schools.

"A Trip to Hawaii and Return" at the Christian church Monday night, Sept 3 Adults, 25c; children, 15c. 137 4t

Mrs. N. A. Scott left this morning for Farmer, Texas, to visit her daughter, Mrs. Lowe.

R. W. Simpson is in New York buying his fall and winter goods.

Miss Mabel Ray, a niece of Dr. Foutz, came in Saturday evening to spend the winter in Ada and attend the city schools.

Get your cold drinks and confectionaries at Evan's neatly furnished ice cream parlor. 112-tf

Died—Sunday evening, in North Ada, the little two year old daughter of Jerd Carter and wife of fever. The remains will be taken to Center for burial.

An illustrated lecture on the Hawaiian Islands at the Christian church Monday evening, Sept. 3. 137 4t

Mrs. I. C. Clifton and baby came in Friday evening from Visalia, California, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Keyser.

Don't throw your old clothes away; have them made to look like new by Berry, at K. C. tailor shop. 136 tf

J. A. Biles has accepted a position with the Cox-Greer Dry Goods company and assumed the duties of his new position today.

FOR RENT.—Good office rooms on Main street. Little Bros. 104-tf

C. C. Hargis, T. D. McKeown, W. C. Wallace, W. D. Lowden and T. T. Lancaster went to Konawa this afternoon, where they will install a Masonic lodge tonight.

M. L. Walsh will furnish you with the White Swan brand. Phone 17. 95-tf

Rev. J. W. Mathias, of Durant, was in the city over Sunday and preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Judge Galbraith, who has a valuable collection of Hawaiian views, will give the public an interesting picture and story of life in the tropics on Monday night at the Christian church for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society. 139 2t

Mrs. R. E. Haynes and son is expected to return from Holdenville this evening, where they have been visiting the past week.

Mrs. Walter Bolen left Sunday evening for her home at Francis after a few days' visit with relatives and friends in the city, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Pigg, and children, who are visiting here from California.

J. B. Marsh and family, who have been here prospecting the past week, from Philippien, Ky., were so well pleased with our city and country that they have decided to locate here and have rented a house in North Ada. Mr. Marsh also purchased some lots in the new townsite of Walling.

If you want the White Swan canned goods, phone us. M. L. Walsh. 95-tf

Stereopticon views of the Hawaiian Islands, their people and products, will be shown at the Christian church next Monday evening under the patronage of the Ladies' Aid society of that church. 137 4t

J. B. Stewart and family, one of our prosperous farmers living northwest of Ada, returned Saturday afternoon from a five weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Louisiana.

Mrs. H. W. Bailey, of Sunrise, was dangerously ill Sunday evening, but is reported very much better today.

M. L. Walsh received word this morning that Miss Galliher would not be here to take her place in the store for another week, owing to sickness.

W. S. Akers, of Oklahoma City, visited friends in Ada Sunday.

Mrs. M. J. Logan, of Konawa, passed through Ada on her way home from Mannsville, I. T., where she has been visiting for some time.

Dr. Runyan made a business trip to Francis today.

Mrs. D. W. Swaffar and daughter returned today from a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends at Nevada.

Lost—Between postoffice and North Ada, a greenish brown umbrella, crooked handle; return to Miss Nell Moore. 140 1t

A. H. Constant and family are expected to return this afternoon from a two weeks' outing at Galveston.

J. Bedford and wife left this morning for Oklahoma City and other Western points.

H. M. Furman went to Holdenville this morning, where he will make a campaign speech tonight, and from there he will go on into Oklahoma, where he has dates for the rest of the week.

R. C. Kensola, wife and baby came in this morning from Madill, where they had been visiting, and left this afternoon for their home at Konawa.

Nellie Parson, of Weatherford, Texas, who has been visiting Mrs. Staggs for some time, went to Ahlosa today, where she will visit with friends a few days.

Notice.

City warrants No. 1479 and 1256 issued to T. J. Chambliss and J. P. McKinley are lost and duplicates issued to cover same and the public is hereby notified not to buy said warrants No 1479 or 1256 as the city treasurer will not cash same. Jesse Warren, Recorder. 135-5t

Public Schools Begin.

Teachers and children gathered at the school buildings Monday morning and an organization of the classes was begun. As soon as the children were classified and informed what books they would need school was dismissed that they might procure the necessary books and other utensils and be on hand ready for work Tuesday.

New Hotel.

Mrs. S. E. Chapman recently leased the Commercial hotel building and has reopened it as a strictly first class hostelry. The house has been thoroughly renovated from basement to garret, and patrons of the house will find home like treatment at all times. 140 6t

Did a Big Business.

Monday the local booksealers did a land office business. Their patrons lined up ten deep and although extra clerks were employed one was compelled to wait some time before being waited on. However, by night the future congressmen, senators and first ladies of the land were accommodated and all are now ready for the beginning of a hard year's work.

Only a Corporal's Guard.

Sunday afternoon was the time for the regular monthly meeting of W. L. Byrd camp, Confederate Veterans. A number of them punctually assembled at the camp headquarters but neither the commander nor a lieutenant appeared. With strict adherence to the organic law, they could not hold a formal session. So those present contented themselves with holding a pleasant informal meeting, in which reminiscences of the martial past were indulged in.

Frisco Special Train Excursion

to Sulphur Springs, I. T., Sept. 16th, 1906 Rate is $1.00 for the round trip. Train leaves Ada at 10.08 a. m. Returning train leaves Sulphur Springs at 6.30 p. m. I. McNair, Agent, Ada, I. T.

Frisco Low Rates.

Commencing August 26th, we will sell until October 31st, tickets at very low rates to points in California, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, Old Mexico and Texas. Call and get particulars. I. McNair, Agent, Ada, I. T.

REMOVAL NOTICE

I have moved my shop over Freeman's store, and am better prepared than ever to do your work in first class shape. Clothes made to order a specialty. Also do cleaning, repairing, dyeing and pressing clothes. All work called for and delivered.

B. C. BERRY
TAILOR
Over Freeman's Store

'SWEETNING'

Is an attractive word, but here are a few prices on on "sweetening" that will attract the attention of every housewife in Ada.

East Texas Ribbon Cane per gallon.....65c
Louisiana Ribbon Cane, per gallon.....70c
P & F Cero Debatterie, per gallon.....65c
Evaugeline, per gallon..65c
Maple.....$1.25
Home Made Sorghum, per gallon.....50c
Honey Drips (Corn Syrup) per gallon....40c

Don't forget us when you get hungry.

Jones Bros.

Successors to Jones & Meaders

FURMAN & CROXTON

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW

Will do a general Civil and Criminal Practice. Office in Duncan Building.

C. A. Galbraith Tom D. McKeown
GALBRAITH & McKEOWN
LAWYERS
Over Citizens National Bank Ada, Ind. Ter.

DR. CORDELIA FOUTZ
OSTEOPATH

Office and Residence at M. M. Sander's home on South Broadway. Phone 245.

ADA, IND. TER.

DR. W. T. NOLEN
-PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON-
Office over Little building, next door to Nolen drug store
Office Phone 91 Res. Phone 11

ADA STEAM LAUNDRY CO.

Is given up to be best. Do Largest Agency Work of any plant in this Territory

Reed & Harrison Wholesale and Retail Buggies

The Best Makes, the Lowest Prices

Geo. A. Truitt,
Engineer and Land Surveyor

Office Rear Ada National Bank.

Prompt and Careful Attention Given to All Work Entrusted.

I have opened the Twelfth Street Meet Market

and ask a share of your patronage. Nothing but the best of meats will be carried and your patronage will be given the most careful attention.

C. L. HICKEY.

Eyes Tested and Glasses Fitted
C. J. Warren, Optician

The NICKEL STORE

Where You Save Money on Everything.

School Books

Come here to buy your School Books. Why? Because everything is priced at its lowest net spot cash retail value. Because boy or girl can buy as cheap as man or woman. Because purchasers of School Books will be presented with book satchels as long as they last.

We're off for some more To the Nickel Store, In a very great hurry are we; For the best sweets in the land Are the Red Band Brand, And we know where to get them you see. Chocolates, Bon Bons and all of our Nice Family Candies, per lb. 12c

Stoneware

Come here for your Stoneware. You will find it here for about half what you generally pay. The usual price is 1 1/2c a gallon—buy all you want here at 6c a gallon.

We are selling Stoneware dirt cheap. Milk Pans or Cocks, 1 gallon, usual price 10c., our price.....6c
Milk Pans or Cocks, 2 gallon, usual price 20c., our price.....12c

Our Stationery Department

This is, has been and will be one of the most successful in the store. We sell pens, ink, mullage, glue, composition books, ledgers, journals, day books, tablets both for pencil and ink, ruled and unruled. 5c.

We also in this department keep slates, white pencils, school boxes and school supplies.

Nickel Store.

The 5c and 10c store of Ada, I. T.

S. M. Shaw, Prop
New location on Main street third door west of Rollow's corner.

Phone 77.

Helps Digestion

PURIFIES AND REGULATES

THE BOWELS

A MARVELOUS MEDICINE FOR DISEASED KIDNEYS

Accept no substitute. Insist on having the genuine PRICKLY ASH BITTERS with the large figure 3 in red on the front label

SOLD AT DRUG STORES - PRICE $1.00 BOTTLE

